HAPPENINGS

Orientation Prepares the Class of 1975 for College

Freshman orientation was a combination of adjusting to new faces, new buildings, new food, and living away from home. The week was filled with activities, tours, advising and meals.

Upon arrival at Elmhurst College, each Freshman was supplied with an orientation folder, and a button that boldly proclaimed that he, or she, was a freshman. After meeting roommates and moving in, freshmen began their first week of college.

"Desirable Dierdre," written by Michael Bailey, was presented for the entertainment of the class of '75. They also went to Ravinia Park to see "Look Homeward Angel." The rest of the spare time was spent in programming, group meetings and finding new friends. The week was climaxed by registering for first college classes.

Although the week seemed terribly long and boring, most freshmen would agree that the week was worth the work and planning done by student leaders, faculty and administration.

Trinidad Brings Steel Music

Cultural Life Committee presented the Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band on September 9, 1971. The mall was turned into an outdoor concert hall as their music echoed across the campus. The unique sound of the band was produced on the steel instruments made from empty oil cans. The 22-member group played all types of music ranging from classical to pop-rock and their own calypso style. Some of their selections were Hair, Santana, the Halleluiah Chorus and their own calypso music.

The band played to the calypso beat.

This was a surprising solo.

Horns were bursting with sound.

Impact of Brass Was Talked About for Weeks

Ten musicians experienced with brass instruments and an electrified rhythm section, performed in Hammerschmidt Chapel on October 19, 1971 as part of the entertainment features for the Annual Homecoming Celebration. Such numbers as Tommy, Classical Gas on the flute, selections from Jesus Christ Superstar, and West Side Story were performed. As an encore they played choice numbers from Hair. The closing number was "Let the Sun Shine" and there was a light beam that shone a sun on the wall. This was one of the many concerts E.C. students will remember.

"Friends" excite the crowd with their sound.

Social Life and Black Affairs Co-Sponsor "Friends of Distinction"

The Friends of Distinction added their soul moving sound to the Homecoming festivities on Friday October 22 in the Chapel. From the first moment the Friends came on stage their vibrant personalities came through the song. The excitement that buzzed through the audience describes the excitement that this group produces. The Friends showed great rapport with E.C. students in the audience. The female vocalist came out in the audience and excited all the younger men in the front rows, especially Michael Edwards to whom she sang. The fans displayed the greatness of their million seller hit "Going in Circles" when, in a sense, the audience was completely in the hands of the trio. The lead vocalist, stepped into the audience and sent them into circles when he finished the number as a duet with senior Bonita White. From that point on the group definitely brought the crowd into a light mellow groove.

Jays Whip Wheaton At Homecoming Game

Homecoming 1971 was filled with activities for alumni and students. Friday afternoon, the alumni registered for the weekend, and attended a showing of the play "Anything Goes". Students attended the "Friends of Distinction" concert.

Saturday was not the best day for a game, but our Bluejays overlooked the rotten weather and crushed Wheaton by a score of 41-0. Homecoming Queen, Deb Burket, was announced during Half-time. Following the game, tours were conducted through the new A. C. Buehler library.

The weekend climaxed with the homecoming dance on Saturday night at the Sheraton-Oakbrook Hotel. "Insubordination" provided dancing music for alumni and students enjoying 1971 Homecoming.

The dance of Hawaii was brought to E.C. by B. O'Breine.

The Praetors demonstrated how they keep physically fit.

M.C.'s Deb Mayo, Bill Farley and Dick Montei introduced the acts.

"Tarzan and Jane" was another Praetor act.

Unusual Talent Blooms on E. C. Campus

On Thursday, November 18, 1971, the Praetors gave Elmhurst College Students a chance to show off their hidden talents.

Bill Farley, Deb Mayo and Dick Montei, who shared the Master of Ceremony duties, provided the audience with a very stimulating evening's entertainment.

There were acts to suit all kinds of tastes, from dancing to singing, to a woodwind ensemble to comedy acts. Our campus is overflowing with unusual talents that are finally being discovered.

After the performances, the audience was given the chance to rate the performers for the winner. After three attempts to break the tie between Jim Quilty from the Brotherhood of Squires and the Glee Club Quartet, Jim finally won with his famous "Underwear Poem."

Special recognition to Chuck Reynolds who was the General Chairman for the event. It was deemed by those who attended, a great success. Congratulations, Chuck!

Student Life was exhibited by four chorus dancers.

Glee Club quartet took second place in judging.

A Gift Becomes Reality

September 14, 1967 started the planning for a new library; December 5, 1971 that library was dedicated. The construction of this library was made possible through the generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Buehler. Dr. Clark opened the dedication services welcoming honored guests, faculty, administration, students and guests. Former President Dr. Robert Stanger described the development of the library program at Elmhurst College. That program has paralleled the growth of the enrollment over the first hundred years of the college's existence. Mrs. A. C. Buehler and her son Mr. A. C. Buehler, Jr. presented the keys of the library to the college. The joyous acceptance of the library was made by Mr. Tom Price as representative of the Board of Trustees, senior Mr. Chris Bauch for the student body, and Mr. George for the faculty and administration. Dr. Frick welcomed the Buehler library and Elmhurst College into the Second Century.

The beautiful library will remain as a lasting memorial of the Buehler family, and will serve Elmhurst College well as it moves ahead to the next hundred years of service to higher education.

Dr. Gerhard Graur gives the prayer of dedication.

The long-awaited library took this form thanks to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Buehler.

Accepting the library for the faculty, Mr. Melvin R. George, the College Librarian, addresses the audience at the dedication.

Son Of F.O.F. Is Born.

The second annual spring weekend began on Thursday, April 27, 1972. This year it was titled "Son of F.O.F." The joker, Uncle Pete, dressed as Cisco Kid and Poncho Swords, arrived by stage-coach. Drawn by two horses, the coach gave rides around the mall after the bed race. While Omicron Delta operated a dunking booth, there was the pie eating, pie throwing, and flip-flop contest. That night at dinner Elmhurst College students experienced Eastern foods and the entertainment of a belly dancer.

After getting a good night's rest, the Social Life Committee presented the campus with a two hour concert in the Union Lounge by the Serendipity Singers. That night brought the all-night horror movies in the lounge, including the uncut version of "King Kong".

Saturday afternoon saw a jazz and blues concert by Otis Rush, outside in the mall. Then, students went to the Elmhurst Monte Carlo Casino in the sub-basement of the Union. After gambling and making a lot of money, students could buy services donated by faculty, including a dinner served by President Frick.

The entire weekend was completed Sunday evening with three showings of the movie M.A.S.H. and the collapsing of the Social Life Committee.

Otis Rush played for hours in the mall.

"Andre is Coming"

Andre Kole came and made a definite impression on his audience at Elmhurst College. Mr. Kole demonstrated acts of extra sensory perception, magic acts, and later presented facts of the future that can be found in the Bible.

Many people were awed at the magic; people disappearing from boxes, reappearances, the beheading of a student, and the removing of polka-dots from a scarf. During the second half of his performance Andre Kole performed no magic, but foretold of the future through the writings found in the Bible. One only needs to refer to the latter chapters of Matthew to "check it out." Truly, the evening was one filled with mystery and wonder.

Dr. Frick Is Installed

Dr. Ivan E. Frick was inaugurated as the eleventh president of Elmhurst College on Sunday April 23. The event took place in Hammerschmidt Chapel.

The procession consisted of the Elmhurst College Collegium Musicum, the faculty marshal, delegates from other colleges and universities, representatives from learned societies and associations, the faculty, the board of trustees, and the platform party.

Dr. Robert Stanger, President Emeritus of Elmhurst College, offered the invocation. Greetings were then given from the community, the church, alumni, the students, and the faculty.

The President was installed by Thomas H. Price the chairman of the board of trustees. Dr. Frick then gave his inaugural address which was entitled "Education Renewal: The Need of Our Times."

The ceremony concluded with singing of "The Alma Mater," and the benediction was given by Dr. Stanger. The day was completed with a reception for President and Mrs. Frick and their family and the Chicago Chamber Orchestra concert that evening.

Students Get in the Act

The Elmhurst College Theatre began their year by treating the new freshmen to a student directed and written play. Mike Bailey, a senior theatre major, wrote and directed the freshman orientation play "Desirable Deirdre." Another theatre major, Peter Bliznick, composed the music.

During '71 Homecoming the Theatre gave the students a chance to become part of show biz by producing Cole Porter's "Anything Goes." Directed by Garry Colburn, Alan Weiger and Marilyn Walton starred in this musical extravaganza. E.C. students were able to see the talents of the theatre's new Technical Director and instructor in the Speech Dept., Mr. Stephen Loomis.

Mike Bailey, as Toadflax, concludes the play and the hero and heroine, Peter Bliznick and Barbara Lamm, live happily ever after.

Steve Gardner and Mike Bailey sing about how the Dark Ages have begun.

Lori Riani, Barbara Lamm and Sue Felski sang "A Girl is Like a Loaf of Bread."

At the finale, Marilyn Walton reinforces the conviction that — Anything Goes.

Al Weiger's disguise is discovered by Ann Elyacher.

Theory Is Put Into Practice

This year, fourteen students enrolled in the directing class. A requirement for this class is to direct a one-act play. The fourteen plays were presented during the two weekends of April 27 and May 4. The plays and directors were: Kathy Harris SORRY, WRONG NUMBER, Dan Smith ADAPTATION, Meredy Wollenburg I RISE IN THE FLAMES, CRIED THE PHOENIX, Jan Grude DARK LADY OF THE SONNETS, Vince Pinelli THE LESSON, Nancy Meyer THE LOVE COURSE, Dave Hansen THE TRAILS OF BROTHER JERO, Chris Bahl THE LONG CHRISTMAS DINNER, Jon Erickson HELLO OUT THERE, Ron Meyer PASSION, POISON AND PETRIFACTION, Emil Goellner THE FIRST WARNING, Al Weiger THE MASKS OF ANGELS, Peter Bliznick THE GLASS MOUNTAIN, and Dean Teiter SALOME. After weeks of much joy, pain, laughter and agony, the directors were put to the test on "the night of performance."

Jazz Festival Comes To Life

On the weekend of March 17, 18, and 19, Elmhurst College hosted the fifth annual Midwest Intercollegiate Jazz Festival. Some of the schools participating during the weekend affair were Northern Iowa University, Bradley University, Malcolm X, Kennedy-King, Northern Illinois, University of Illinois, Memphis State, Elmhurst, and other midwestern colleges and universities.

One of the main attractions of the weekend was the selection of students for the All-Star Band. These were students selected by a panel of five judges on the basis of their solo performances.

Well known jazz musicians served on the panel of judges. They were Bunky Green, Buddy Montgomery, Cy Touff, David Baker, and Rufus Reid. Some of the outstanding students selected to comprise the All-Star Band were Quentin Lang, Elmhurst College; Gary Topper, Memphis State; Sonny Seals, Malcolm X; and nineteen others.

Another main attraction was the selection of the outstanding jazz band combo, and/or vocalist to attend the National Collegiate Jazz Festival in the John F. Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. on May 28 and 29. Marilyn Walton, Elmhurst College, was selected as the vocalist to attend the National Festival. Reverend Schieller again organized and directed the Jazz Worship Service on Sunday, March 19.

50's Are Revisited

Do you remember Elvis Presley, cakey make-up, oily hair, tight jeans, and the wad of bubblegum that made your jaw ache? All these memories and more were brought to mind at the Praetors 50's Dance. Music was provided by WRSE's moldy oldy records. Guests danced to "Hound Dog," "Duke of Earl" and other favorites.

A dance contest was held and the fast footed winners were Don Tyler and Debbie Spraggs. The greasiest couple on campus were Greg Wilharm and his moll, Madelynn Tabbert.

Sun Shines on 1972 Graduates

Sunny Sunday, May 28, brought commencement exercises for 510 Elmhurst seniors, the largest graduating class in the college's history. The Reverend Dr. Robert V. Moss, president of the United Church of Christ, delivered the 11 a.m. Baccalaureate address, "Can Human Beings Be Human." The morning religious also featured the college choir.

The commencement exercises themselves began at three o'clock in the afternoon with a processional of the college graduates and the faculty. The invocation was given by John E. Biegert, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, La Grange. Dr. James B. Holderman, executive director of the Illinois Board of Higher Education, made the commencement address.

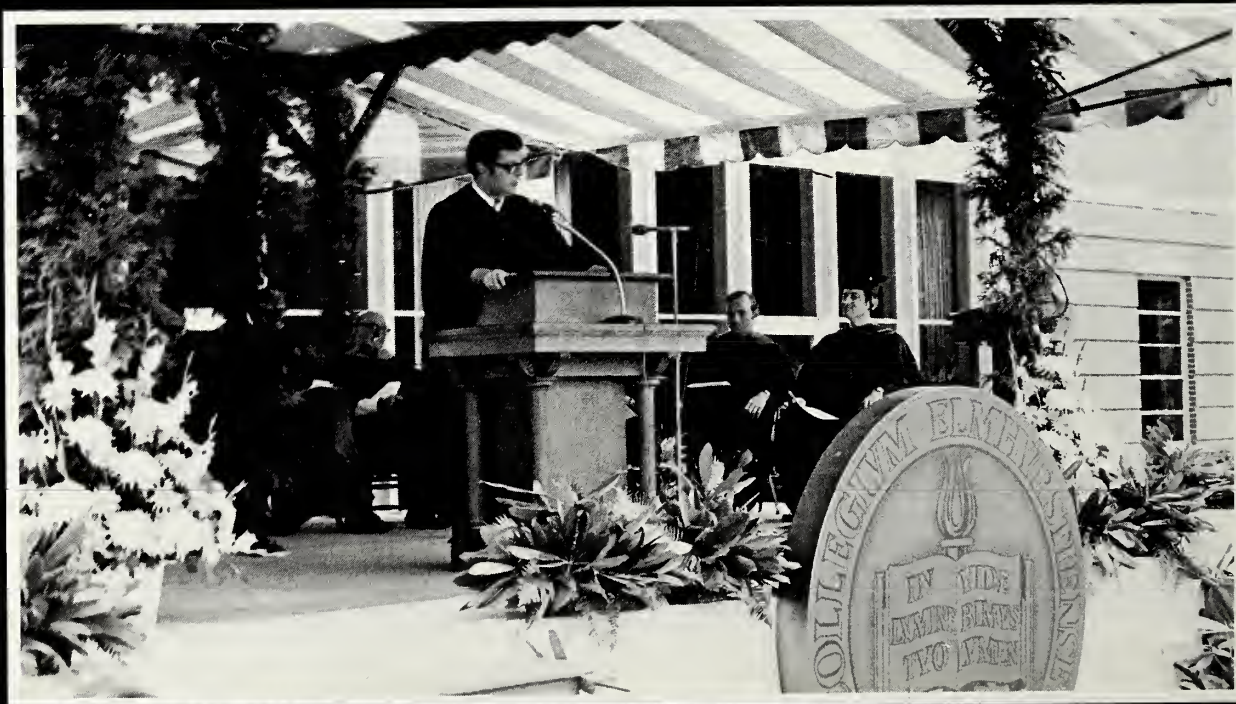

Both Dr. Moss and Dr. Holderman received honorary degrees during the commencement exercises. Two other honorary degrees were presented; one to Dr. Albert V. Crewe of the University of Chicago and the other to Donald M. Carlson, President of the Elmhurst National Bank.

The Baccalaureate Degrees were presented by Dean Robert Clark. Two Alumni Merit Awards were also granted. The recipients were Charles Baumrucher, class of 1934, and Gus Norwood, class of 1937.

Immediately following the commencement activities a reception for the graduates was held in the union.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Buehler was the major contributor to our new library.

Miss Covelli was a former faculty member.

IN MEMORIAM

For their years of dedicated service we remember, Albert C. Buehler, Reverend Albert G. Gosner, and Virginia Covelli.

Our Board of Trustees lost two of its members, Albert C. Buehler and Reverend Albert G. Gosner. A.C. Buehler died September 23, 1971. He served as a member of the Board since 1961 and Chairman of the Science Building's Development and Promotion Committee. He was chairman and chief executive officer of the Victor Comptometer Corporation. The college community will always remember Mr. Buehler for his kind gift of over a million dollars for the construction of a new library.

Serving as a trustee since 1953 Reverend Gosner died on July 28, 1971. A graduate from Elmhurst College, class of 1928 and Eden Theological Seminary, class of 1931, Reverend Gosner began his ministry at Christ Church, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He served as president of Deaconess Hospital, Milwaukee for 18 years. His effectiveness as a pastor was recognized and remembered because he made the gospel applicable to people.

Virginia Covelli joined the Elmhurst College Faculty in 1968, bringing to the Department of Spanish and Italian the rich experience of her study abroad and her years as both a high school and college teacher. As an undergraduate at the University of Chicago, Miss Covelli was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She also did post-Master's study there and began her work for her doctorate at Northwestern University after coming to Elmhurst College. Miss Covelli ever endeared herself to colleagues and students alike.

Reverend Gosner was a former member of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Ivan E. Frick

The president's office is now being occupied by Dr. Ivan E. Frick, the eleventh president of Elmhurst College. Dr. Frick was president of Findlay College in Findlay, Ohio, for seven years. Due to commitments at Findlay College, Dr. Frick did not assume the responsibilities of leading E.C. until November. He was, however, introduced to the college community at the Opening Convocation. The formal inauguration took place during the second semester.

Since Dr. Frick has been here, some changes have been made for the next year. Teacher job placement will be headed by Judy Miniclier, and financial aid will be under Mr. Don Weiss, director of admissions. He has also visited the dorms meeting with the students and answering their questions.

Welcome, Dr. Frick, to Elmhurst.

Swords And Clark: The Dynamic Duo

Immediately before and after registration for a new term you can find a continuous line of students waiting to see Mr. Swords in order to straighten out their individual problems with registration. As well as listening to the individual registration problems of students, Mr. Swords is called upon to serve on various committees and perform the administrative duties of a registrar. Mr. Sword's talents are used in many ways at E.C. and students have learned not to be surprised when his face turns up in unexpected places.

As Academic Dean, Dr. Clark fills a very important post at E. C. The decisions he makes affect the whole gamut of academic life.

Chaplains Are Busy

The chaplain's office is a busy place. Rev. Schieler and Rev. Stoner help prepare ecumenical worship services, provide counseling in many different areas, and are active in campus activities. A sincere concern for students can be found in their office. The chaplain's office is a busy place, but not too busy to help students.

Rev. Schieler serves both as a teacher and a chaplain.

Spiroff Directs Records and Research

Our Records and Research department is headed by Mr. Spiroff.

Rev. Stoner speaking to his secretary.

Neal C. Davis, Dean of Students, is overseer of the housing staff.

Gary Durst heads the housing office.

Durst's assistant in the Neibuhr office is David Moulthrop.

Rosie Dilworth, head resident of Schick, exemplifies the job done by head residents.

Sandy Hutchins deals with problems in Stanger.

Davis Directs Housing

Dean of Students, Neal C. Davis, is in charge of the out of class activities of students. Seeing that the health service, the union, and the counseling service are run efficiently are a few of his responsibilities. One of his major tasks is the overseeing of the housing staff. He is assisted in his job by the Housing Director, Gary Durst, his assistant, David Moultrap, and the head residents of four of our dorms. It is the duty of the head residents to deal with student problems in each of their respective dorms: Dinkmeyer, Neibuhr, Schick, and Stanger.

Dinkmeyer housed head residents, Ed and Cathy Shea.

This year's Mr. and Mrs. Neibuhr, Roger and Jan Brinkman, kept a watchful eye on the "Zoo".

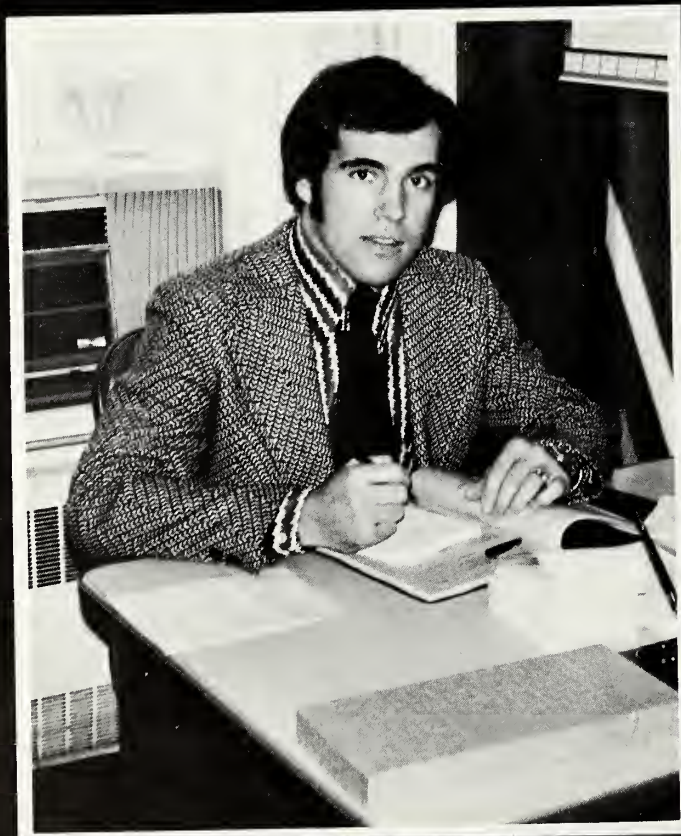

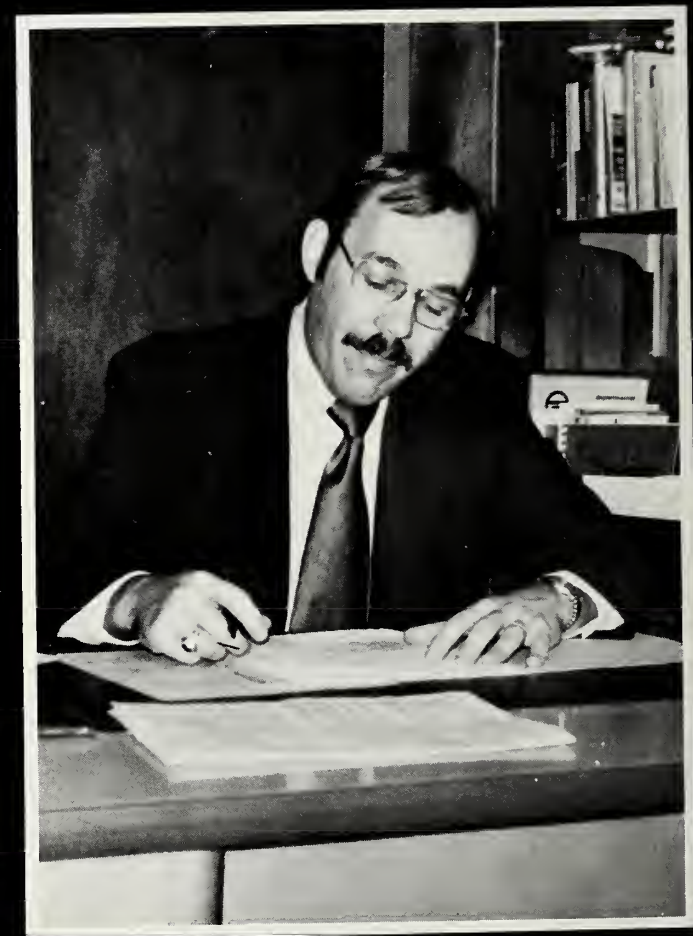

Betsy Kuebler answers a prospective student's inquiries about E.C.

Ed Ward, in a free moment, checks the latest issues of the Elm Bark for news of E.C. events.

Mike Marcisco is busy checking on a future students qualifications for admission to E.C.

Mr. Weiss carefully scans each student's admission application before their acceptance to E.C.

Admissions Selects New Students For E.C.

The Admissions Department, headed by Mr. Don Weiss, and his able assistants Betsy Kuebler, Mike Marcisco, and Edward Ward, assumes the responsibility of selecting students for acceptance to E.C. Admissions informs prospective students of requirements in testing, application forms, transcripts, and fees. Planning and coordinating the activities for Freshman Orientation Week also keeps the admissions staff busy.

P.R. Promotes The Inauguration

The staff for public relations consists of Mr. Ray Ramseyer; vice president of development; Mr. Russell Weigand, associate director; Mr. Gerald Rasa, news director; and Rev. Henry Krochler, director of church relations. They inform the students, parents, alumni and community through the various media of press; radio, and television, of events effecting the college community. The most outstanding event of this particular school year was the inauguration of Dr. Frick. It was due to the public relations efforts that:

letters were sent to the surrounding colleges and universities asking for representatives; that the Chicago Chamber Orchestra gave a performance; and that the fourteen page address was condensed to two pages in order to appear in the neighboring newspapers. The public relations is responsible for the basic promotion of the college serving in other functions such as freshman orientation, sport events and publication of all brochures.

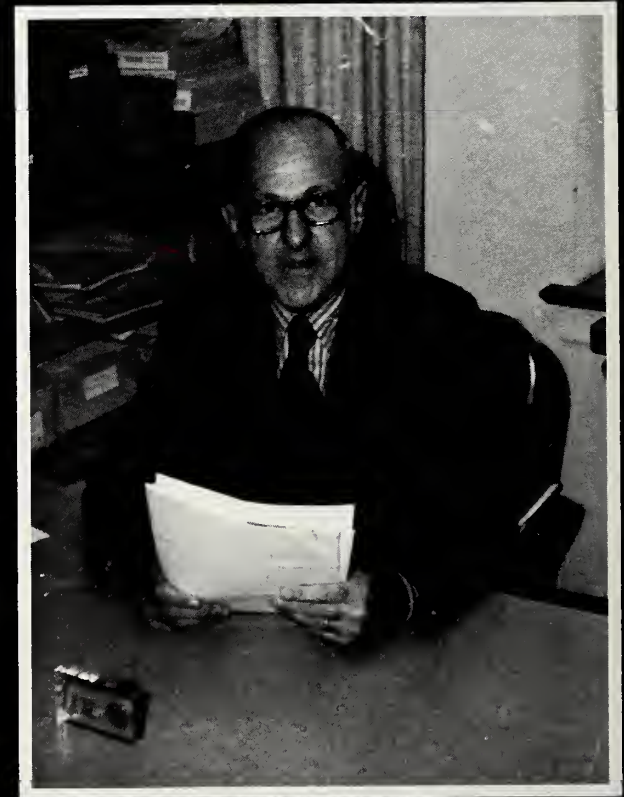

Mr. Weigand informs Scott McIlvain about public relations.

Gerry Rasa works diligently at his desk.

The Administration Keeps the School Functioning

Top Left: Mr. Trevor Pinch, Business Manager, keeps the school's business affairs in tact.

Bottom Left: Mr. James Barry, director of Financial Aid, is a good friend to have if you are a student who needs a scholarship and aid.

Top Right: Director of the Physical Plant, Roy Johnson, tries very hard to keep us warm and comfortable in the dorms.

Bottom Right: Mr. Ray R. Ramseyer, the Vice President in Development and Public Relations, keeps the school in good face with the public.

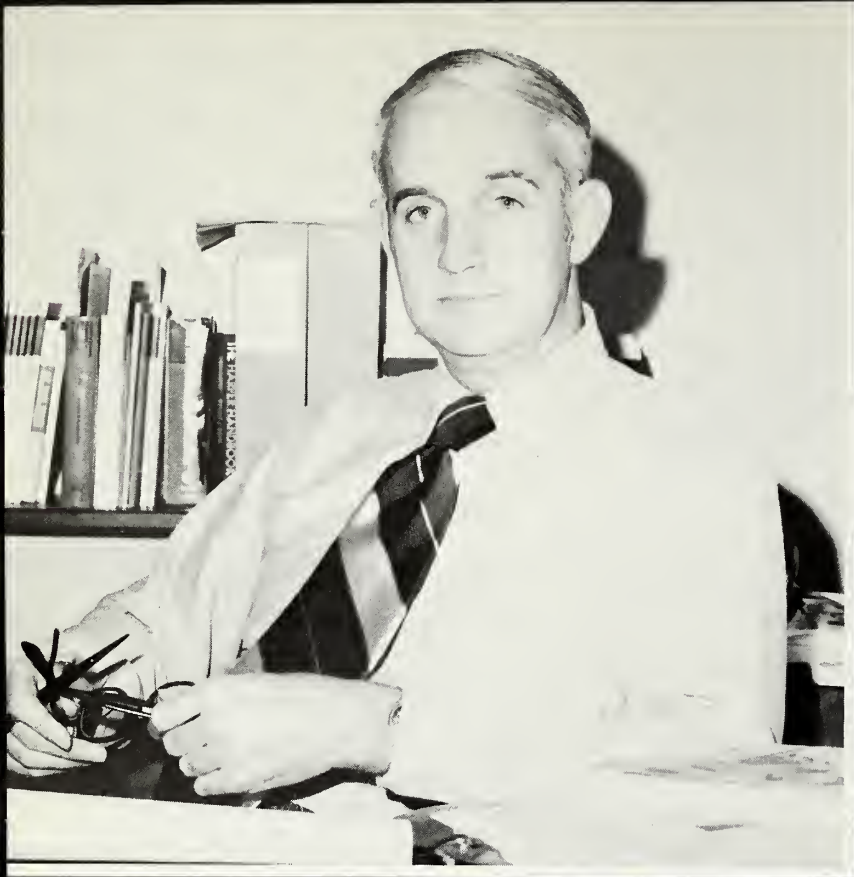

Left: In our Job Placement Office, Judy Miniclier, does everything she can to help students get jobs, both full and part time.

Top Right: Security Officer Robert Ryan keeps us safely locked up at night. Whenever possible, his officers are very accommodating to stranded, locked out students.

Bottom Right: Mrs. Gertrude Tripp does double duty as Director of both the Language Laboratory and of the Central Service Bureau.

Mr. James Cunningham is director of the College Union.

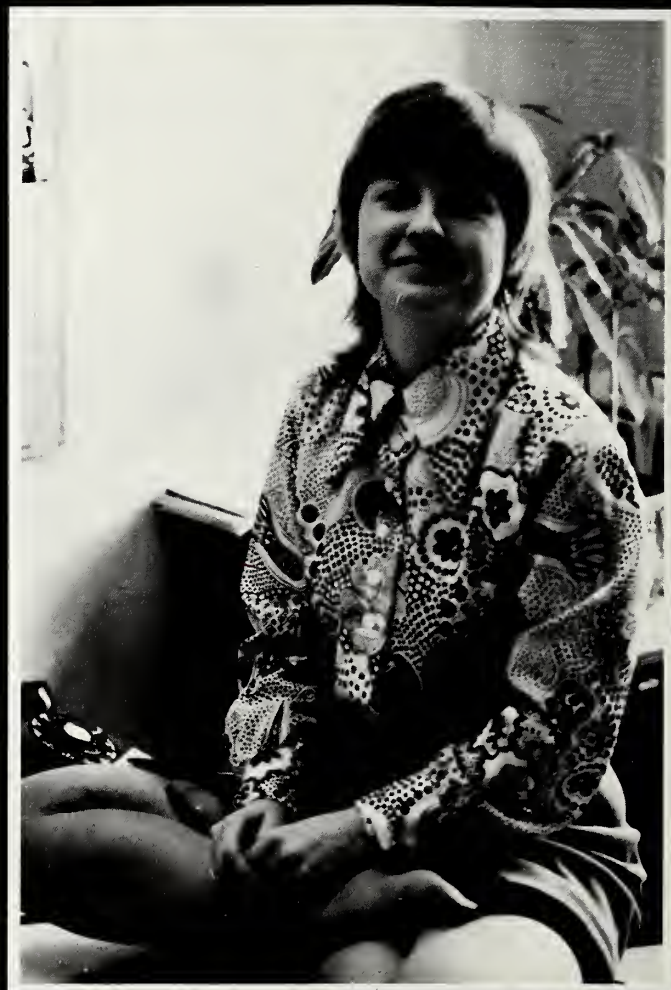

What would we ever do without them? Mrs. Spencer is receptionist and Mrs. Kufer switchboard operator.

The way to J.C. is through his secretary Maureen Bubert.

Meet You at the Union

"I'll meet you at the fireplace in the Union," is a phrase often heard at Elmhurst College. The Union serves as a central gathering place and information center for many students. This year the appearance of the Union was improved by the painting of murals in several of the rooms used for meetings. The Union as always remains a center point of activity for the college.

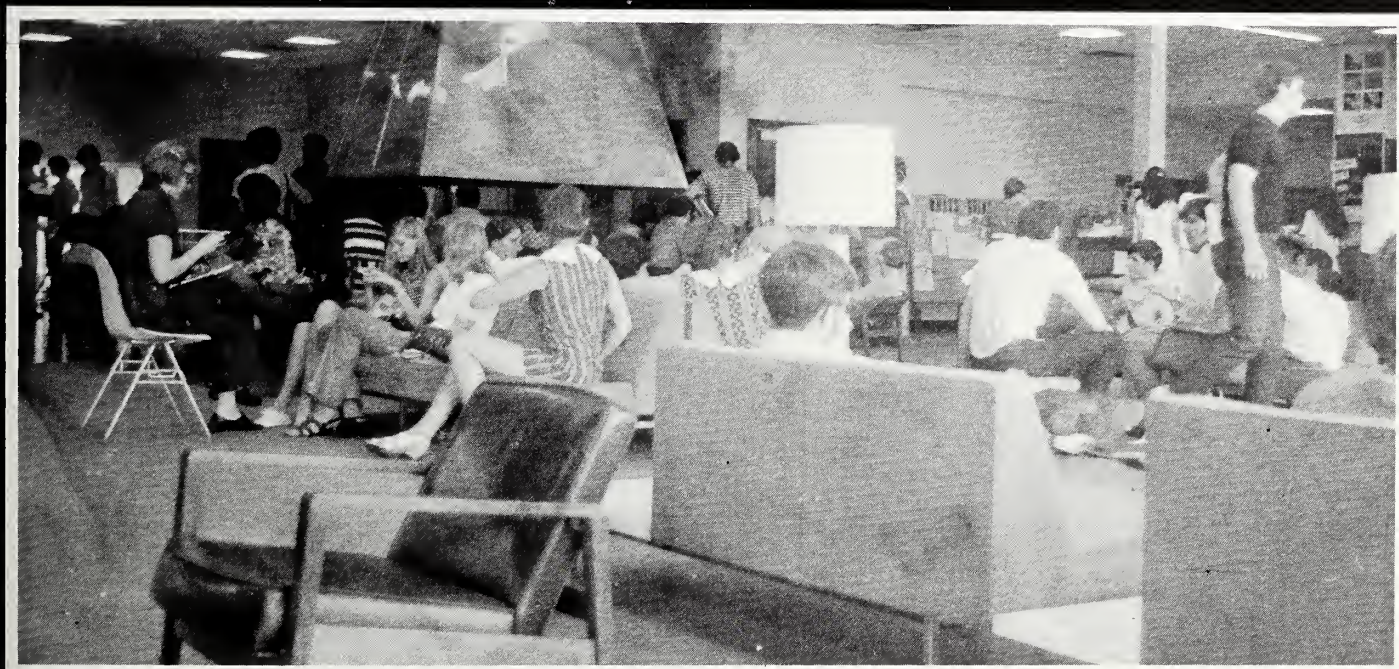

Set the date with Peg Kleich, calendar coordinator.

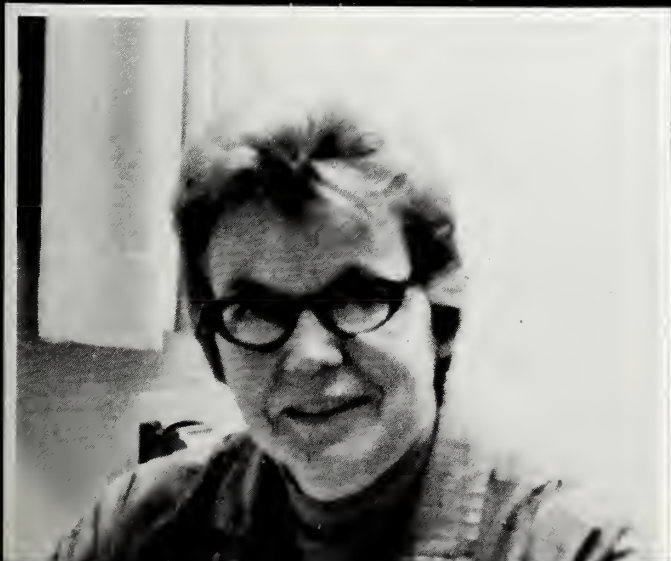

Wence Cunningham is assistant director of the Union.

Students relax between and during class in the Union lobby.

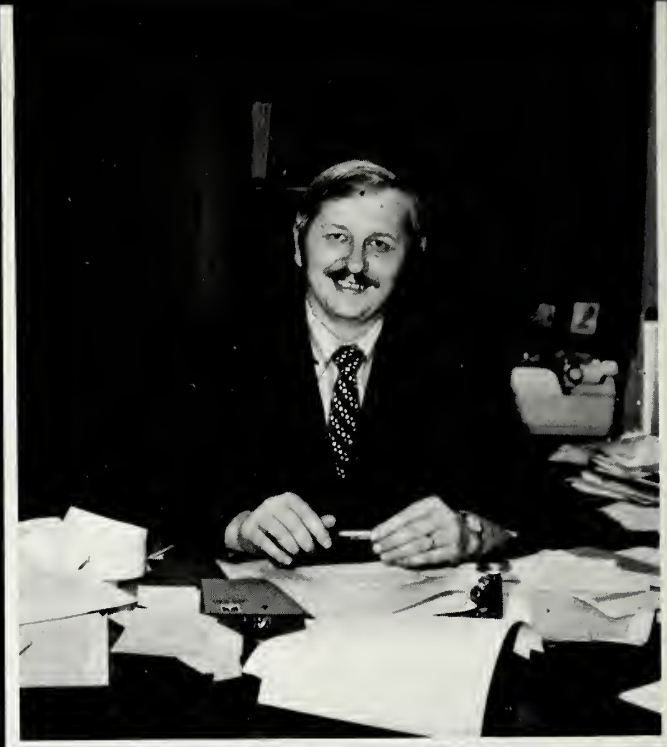

"You can get anything you want at Inga's Restaurant."

Librarians Organize the New Library

The A. C. Buehler Library offers students many new resources for learning. The librarians help students utilize these resources. The larger book volume, new audio-visual department, and special book reserve sections are just a few of the increased services offered to students. The librarians keep the library organized and functioning efficiently for the students at Elmhurst College.

Mr. M. George is head librarian.

Mrs. Barry helps a visitor at the library.

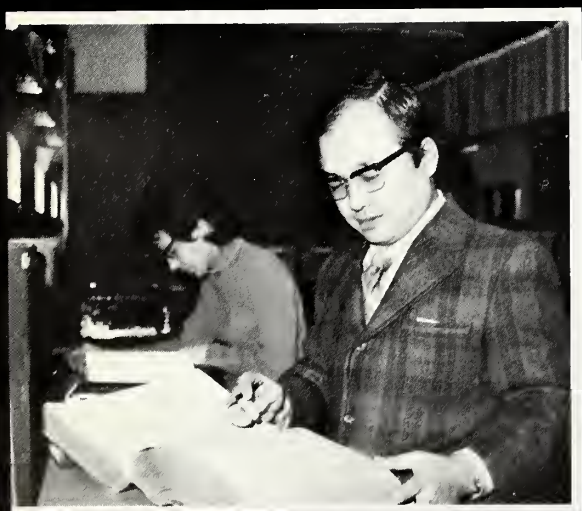

Mr. Kistner is assistant librarian.

Mr. G. Rhie joined the library staff.

Mr. R. Christiansen operates the A-V equipment.

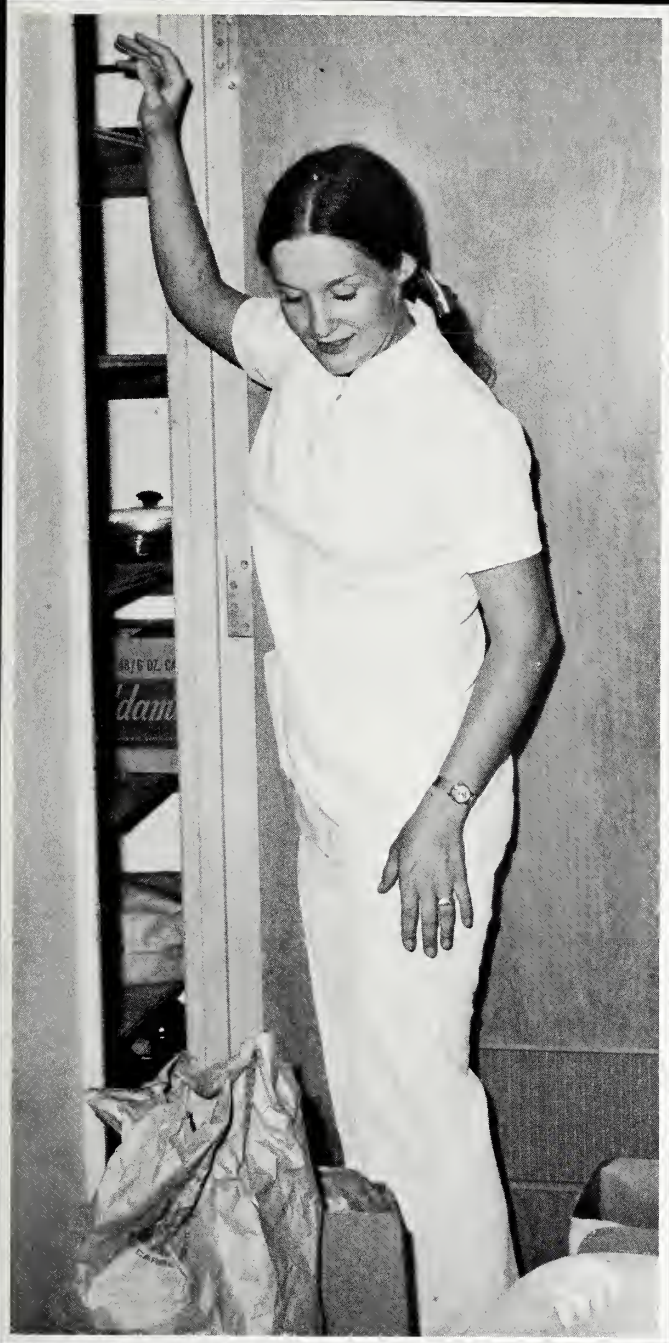

Miss Grobe checks the card catalogue.

Care is Given

The Student Health Service attracts students who have aches, pains or strange unknown diseases. It also offers comfort and cures to victims of nasty little germs. The staff is responsible for meeting the health needs of the students while they are away from home.

Mrs. Karen Rice checks Health Service Supplies.
Mrs. E. Currie helps keep the student files up to date.

Dr. Acosta is the college physician.

Mrs. Dunning clowns around for the camera.

The Afro American Studies Program Moves Forward

Through the leadership of Ray Jackson, department head, Michael Smith and Dorothy Frank the Afro Studies department provides education, leadership and understanding for Black students. This year brought the addition of Leopold Begne, thus widening the scope of the department. The office offers a comfortable atmosphere for the Black Students to investigate his own blackness.

Mr. Leopold Bengé brings an African accent to the department.

Mr. Ray Jackson heads the progressive Afro Studies Program.
The office is kept moving efficiently by Mrs. Dorothy Franks.

See Europe Through Urban Studies

Elmhurst College is very fortunate to be the only known school in the country to have an interdisciplinary major in the field of Urban Studies. This being its second year in existence, it provides courses interesting to students involved in any major, especially in geography, economics, history, political science, and sociology. The department is designed for Liberal Arts but provides career possibilities for interested students in city government, social agencies, and community organizations. The courses deal with theory and practice.

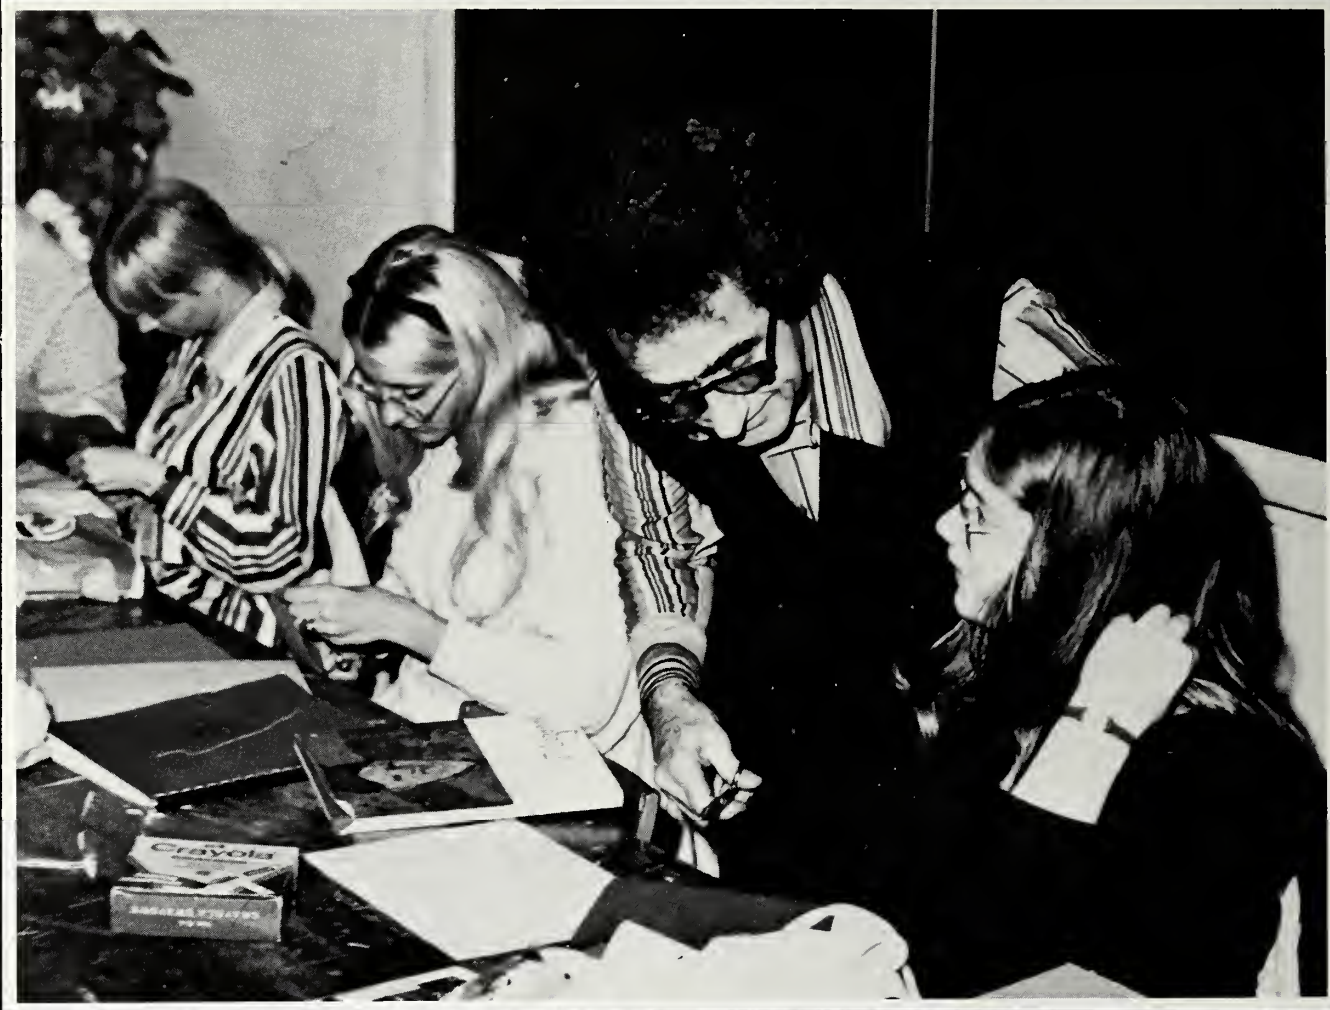

Each year during the Spring Semester, Dr. Prinz conducts an Urban Studies Series for majors, which ends with a tour of European cities. During this semester students can get field work jobs to help defray the cost of the European tour. Working with a city planner is one of several possibilities. Unknown to most students; however is the fact that each and any part of the semester series can be taken as an elective along with a regular semester schedule. A full course credit is earned for each individual course, and the trip to Europe is optional. Credit must be given to Dr. Prinz for heading such a new and relevant program by himself.

Dr. Prinz relaxes in his office.

Education students create in this art class taught by Mr. Halkin.

Students Create

For those who don't know, third floor of Old Main is devoted to a very extensive Art Department. The chairmanship was recently taken over by Mr. Theodore Halkin. Miss Latham Baskerville, while still teaching, has retired from her position as chairman. The department offers practical, theoretical and appreciative courses. Art students frequently have the opportunity to display their talent in various art exhibits in the Union Lounge. This year, the painting of murals in the T.V. room and the browsing room in the Union was headed by Mr. Weber, of the department, however, work on the murals was open to all interested students.

Biology Department Initiates Students to Life Sciences

The Biology Department shows its diversity by offering a wide selection of courses. Biology 100, 104, and 102 introduce the student to general biology, zoology and botany respectively. The more detailed and involved courses such as Embryology and Comparative Anatomy are also offered. Specially designed programs, tailored for the individual student are available in independent studies. Among the interim courses offered are Animal Behavior, held at Brookfield Zoo, and the Northwoods Trip to northern Wisconsin offered with the Geography Department. Biology also offers anatomy courses for Physical Education majors and has a new nursing program.

Dr. Martinsen has his temperature taken.

Dr. Gorsic is caught in a Genetics Lab.

Mr. Honour demonstrates dissection.

Business Administration classes always enjoy Mr. Frank's lectures.

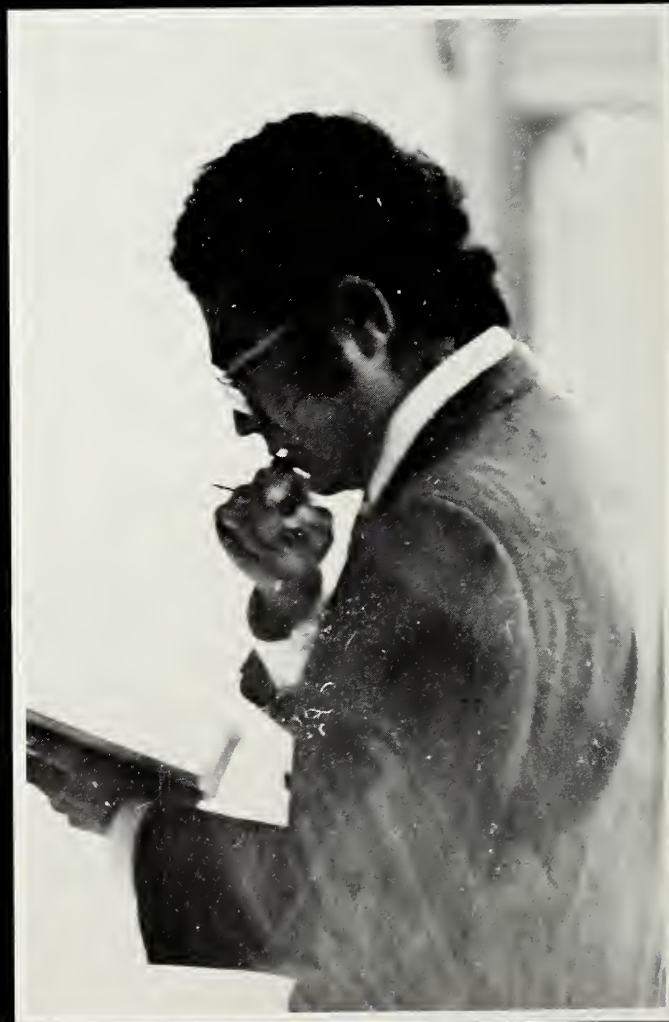

Mr. Dutt, trying to figure out the homework.

Diversification is Characteristic of the Business Department

A major in business administration is given the opportunity to study in four fields — accounting, finance, marketing, and management. The courses in business administration aspire to develop a problem-solving, decision making ability for careers, a pursuit of graduate study, and personal enlightenment.

New with the department this year is Mr. Terry Madoch. Also new is another requirement for the Business major — Math 162. Accounting for the Non-Business students was offered this Interim for the first time which proved to be a successful course.

The growing Business Administration Department at Elmhurst is feeling the pinch of the austerity program here at Elmhurst. A few of the situations that have confronted the department are: 1) as the enrollment of the freshman class decreases the number of Business majors is increasing, 2) approximately 200 students and four faculty members comprise the department, 3) day school students must utilize the evening session to get a full program because of so few course offerings during the day and only four faculty members.

Chairman of Business Administration is Mr. Scudiero.

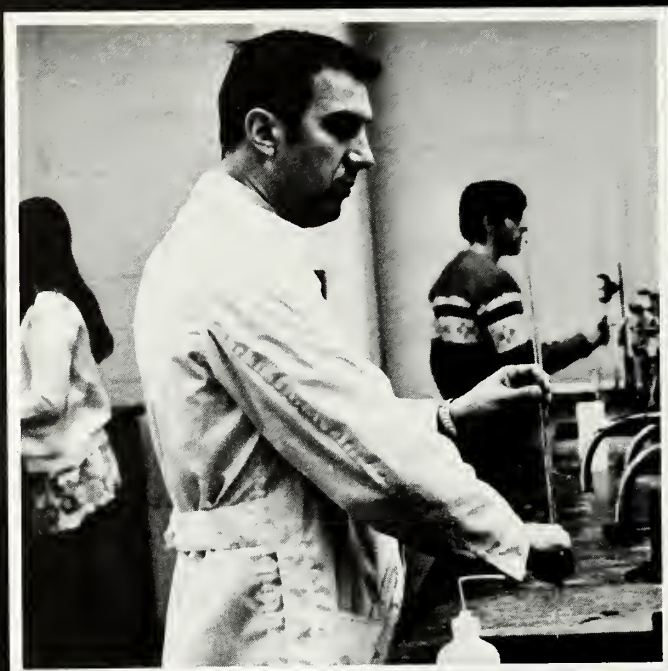

Mr. Madoch loafs at his desk.

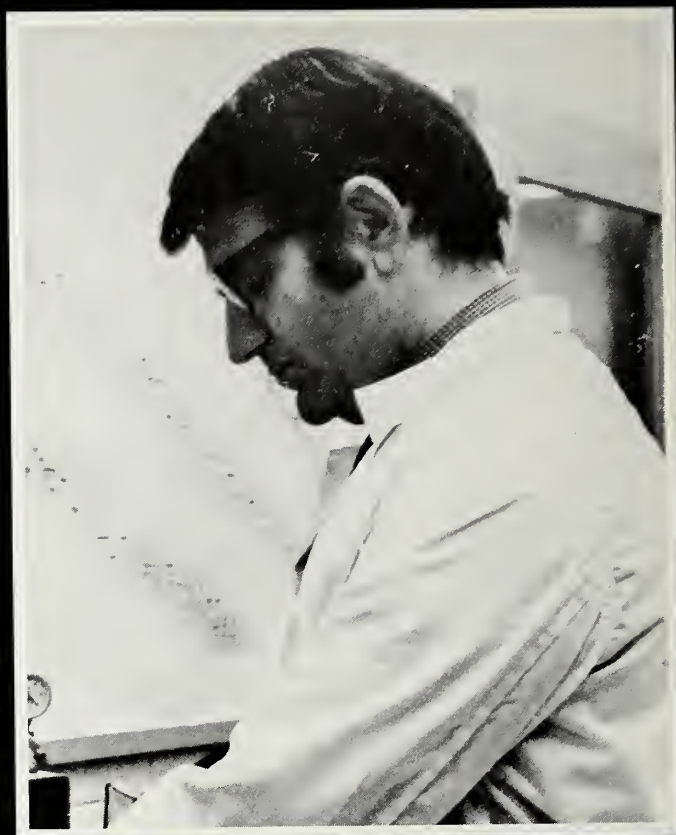

Mr. Franks takes it easy.

Chemistry Expands Into Second Century

As more and more E. C. students find out each year, Chemistry is a lot more than mixing and seeing what happens. Chemistry is a tradition at E. C., which began years ago atop Old Main. This tradition is being upheld and improved. The largest classes ever, filled to capacity the facilities on the top of the Science Center. New courses, a young faculty mindful of the past, a N.M.R. Spectrograph, new laboratory equipment, and procedures contribute to the character of this department. Continued expansion and improvement depict Chemistry in the future at E. C.

Classics Offers Study Of Culture

For those students interested in the ancient lifestyle and philosophies of the Romans and Greeks, Elmhurst College has a Classics major. Rev. Williams and Mrs. Cutler are professors of Greek and Latin, however, knowledge of these languages are not necessary to understand the other courses.

For those students interested in archeology, the department can help one get involved in archeological digs.

The last two years, the Classics department sponsored two interim trips. Both were the study of architecture and art. The first to Italy and the second to Greece.

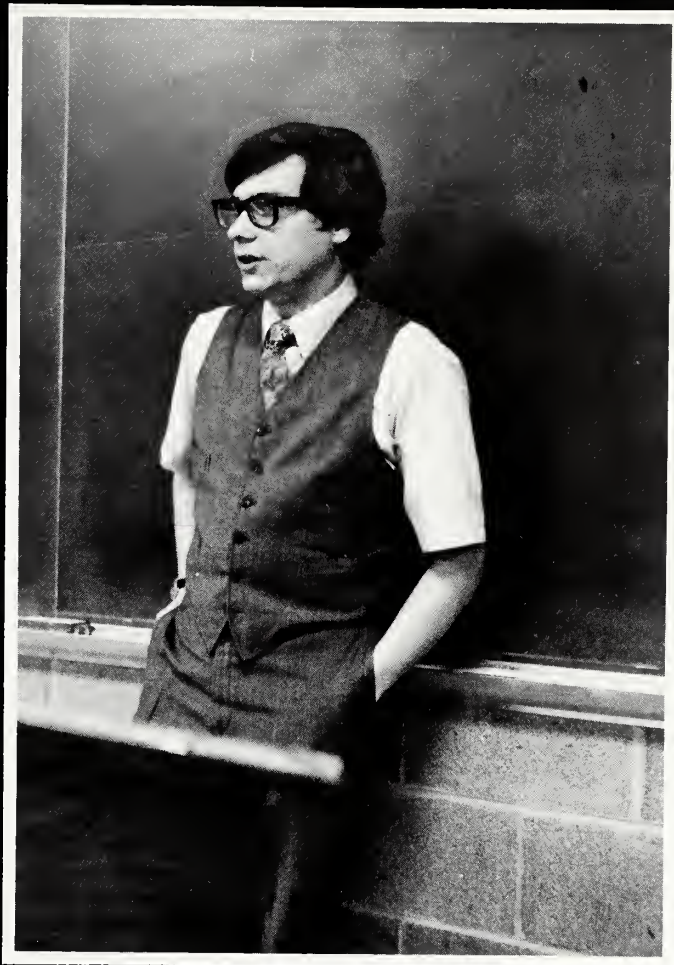

Rev. Williams is the chairman of the Classics Department.

Mr. Snyder's smile puts students at ease.

Mr. Thoma addresses one of his classes.

Financial Institutions Are Studied

Economics helps the student understand the world's financial institutions. The student starts with "Introduction to Economics" which is a discussion of the basic principles. Advanced courses in economics follow through more complex aspects, such as the effects of world trade on the United States or the philosophy of labor unions. The student attempts to understand this monetary world, in which we all live.

The Economics Department is headed by Mr. Robert Eaton.

Dr. Feldman teaches secondary education principles to students.

Educators of the Future Have Their Beginning Here

Teachers graduating from Elmhurst College will be able to help students discover the many interesting occurrences in our world not only today, but twenty years from today. This is the goal of the Education Department. The E. C. Education majors have opportunities to experience new ideas in education as well as enjoying a flexibility beyond the classroom. A new dimension of education was added for those who took the interim trip to England and also for those who participated in area school environments. After their initial experience, student teachers had the opportunity for a deeper look into education through the new internship program. The Education Department desires to prepare capable teachers sensitive to the needs and desires of their students.

Words Are Exciting

One of the largest departments at Elmhurst College is the English Department. It offers a wide variety of courses. For students interested in studying literature, the department offers courses from Medieval and Renaissance through to Modern Styles. A variety of courses are also offered for those students intent on improving their own writing skills, both expository and creative writing.

The English department was proud to announce the formation of an honor society, Sigma Tau Delta, headed by Dr. Kenneth Bidle.

Dr. Barclay raps with Luther Brown in the Union Lounge.

Dr. Kunka enjoys a cup of coffee between classes.

Mrs. Gras and Mrs. Hatmaker teach basic French grammar.

Relevancy Is Offered Through French and Russian

Elmhurst College is fortunate to have three competent professors of the French language; Mrs. Devaud, Mrs. Gras, and Mrs. Hatmaker offer courses in French literature as well as conversation. Occasionally, as in January 1970, the department sponsored a trip to France during Interim.

Besides the ordinary languages studied, Elmhurst is fortunate to have Miss Darian as Russian instructor. Along with the basic Russian grammar, students can take courses in conversation and composition. A study of contemporary Russian literature is also offered.

French literature is taught by Mrs. Devaud.

Courses in conversation and composition are taught by Miss Darian.

More Than Just a Language is Taught

American students who realize they need to become aware of other countries' language and customs can benefit greatly from the German department where the attempt is made to gain knowledge of more than just the language. The German department had a busy year highlighted by an OKTOBERFEST attended by students, faculty, staff, and townspeople. Entertainment included medieval German madrigals sung by Collegium Musicum and a live "oom pah pah" band. Among the other activities of the German Club were a lecture by the well known German writer Heinrich Boll and a live performance in German of a Schiller drama. Several students participated in study programs in Germany and Austria during the interim, summer, and junior year.

History is Forever

The Department of History, staffed by three full-time and two part-time professors, has always been considered a strong and meaningful part of the academic structure of Elmhurst College. The course offerings show a fine balance between the various aspects of historical concerns. American History, European History, as well as courses in Russian and Far Eastern History, are regularly offered. During the Interim students enroll in courses in Modern African History, Near Eastern History and, American Social and Intellectual History.

The staff is not only dedicated to the subject matter of History, but also to the personal life and intellectual growth of the students. Private conversations with students are sought and encouraged and add a great deal to a more meaningful professor-student relationship.

About 80 students have selected History as their major interest. The students plan to enter the field of Secondary Education; enter a graduate program in History or Law; or seek positions in the world of business or commerce.

Learn Something Cool

With emphasis on relationships between man and his environment, the Geography Department links the natural and social sciences. Environmental Management, offered for the first time this year during both semesters, provides broad appeal to students. Interim courses this year included a case study of Chicago and the Great Lakes region. A visit to the North Woods provided students with a "cool" learning experience. Elmhurst's Geographers contributed to the Second Century, with the addition of a campus weather station that provides continual recordings of meteorological conditions on the roof of the Science Center.

The Math Department Increases Once Again

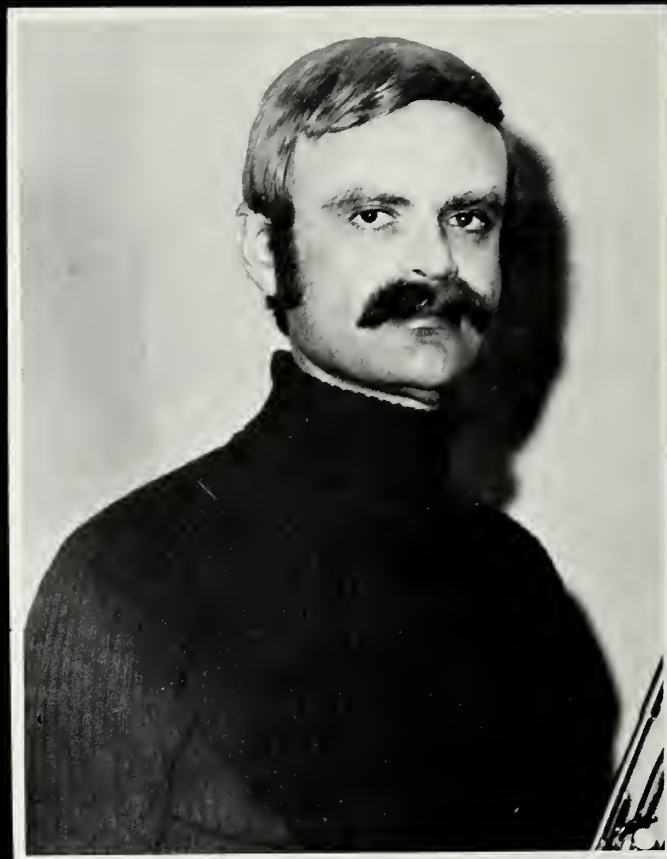

In keeping with a growing science consciousness at E.C., our Math department fulfills the needs for a strong math department. Already one of the larger departments in the Science Center, the department increased with the coming of Dr. Schiefelbusch who just graduated from the University of Chicago. The "abstract science" department at Elmhurst College, with continued revision of math programs, maintains a significant spot in the Second Century.

Notes from All Over

The Music Department includes all facets of student interest in its curriculum. Band, Orchestra, and College Choir may be taken as credit courses, but Glee Club, Polyhymnia, Jazz Band, and Choral Union are also offered. Aside from the theory and music history courses required of all majors, various technique courses are also available. Applied music students have a chance to express themselves thru many recitals presented year round.

Dr. Sorensen specializes in brass instruments.

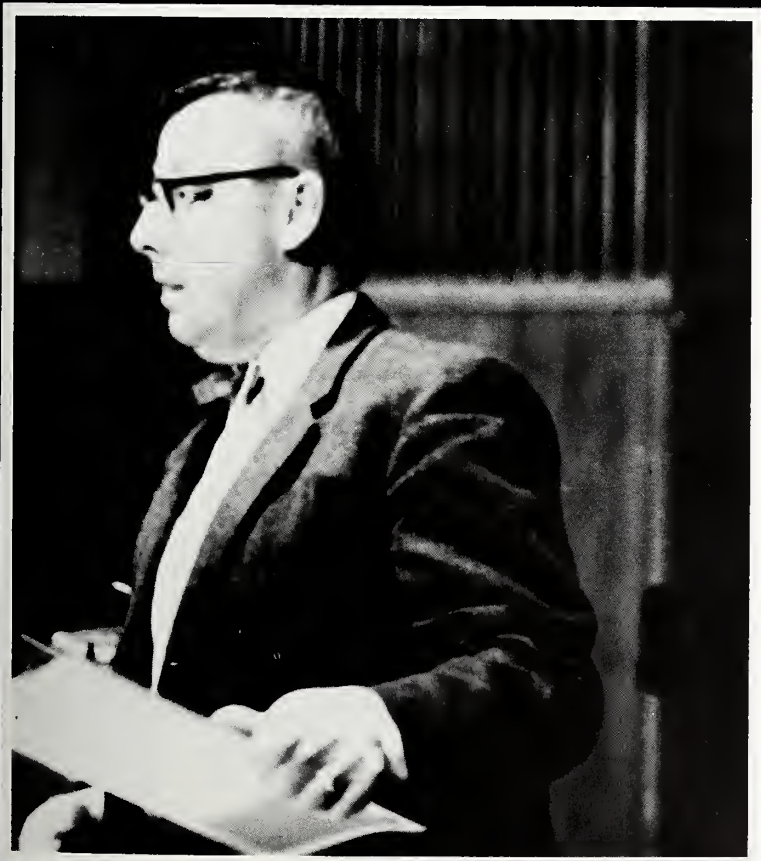

Students take "notes" in Mr. Westermeyer's classes.

Mr. Moore plays his oboe.

The Elmhurst College Choir is directed by Dr. Krueger.

Miss Hewitt teaches theory classes.

The Enduring Question is Explored at E.C.

The Department offers a variety of courses to serve the interests and needs of students who are not intending to be specialists in philosophy, but who have a lively curiosity about philosophical issues. These offerings serve to satisfy that need and also frequently relate quite specifically to the student's major. Among these courses are Philosophy of Religion, Moral Philosophy, and the philosophy of specific periods of history.

For students majoring in philosophy, and who are pursuing philosophy either for a teaching career or pre-professional training the department offers a comprehensive program intended to lead the student to independent philosophical inquiry and to his own "doing of philosophy."

From time to time meetings of the philosophy staff and students are held. These are quite informal and as much attention is given to fellowship as to intellectual issues. Opinions are freely shared about departmental practices and programs and about individual concerns.

As well as teaching classes, Mr. Ulrich also coaches wrestling.

Physical Education Gives Students Relaxation

The Physical Education Department offers Elmhurst College students an opportunity to attain more than just an academic education. A recent addition to the expanding department is Mr. Wellman. He was the J.V. basketball coach and the baseball head coach. Students master exercise and recreational games through the ever increasing service courses, four of which, students are required to take for graduation. For those students majoring in the department, there are various theory and method courses for them to choose from.

The Physics Department Expands

Newtonian physics is classical, but at Elmhurst College, "new" is the important part. Dr. Sawyer, this year joined the staff after receiving his Ph.D. from Case Western Reserve University. To increase the equipment the Physics department added a nuclear accelerator, just recently becoming operational, and a new electro-microscope. With the computer added last year, which the department is also using, a school the size of Elmhurst has available in the Second Century what other larger schools dream about.

Dr. Holiday continues as head of department.

Delivering one of his outstanding lectures is Mr. Lindberg.

Governmental Facts are Given in Poli-Sci.

Elmhurst College's Political Science Department has a special feature, the Washington Semester Program. This program allows students to spend a semester in the nation's capitol learning about government. The department prepares students for pre-law; as well as those interested in government service.

The chairman of the department is Dr. Royal Schmidt. He is assisted by Mr. David Lindberg and Dr. Andrew Prinz from the Urban Studies Department.

Interested in People?

Have you ever sat and watched people on the "L" at O'Hare, or in the Union? Studying the variables of human behavior is of interest to many students at E. C. Just as human behavior is varied the courses in Psychology are varied including study in the clinical, experimental, and physiological aspects of human behavior. Once again this year during January the department provided the opportunity for exposure into fields of community mental health and industrial psychology. The awareness of human behavior which is promoted by the Psychology department adds an important dimension to our curriculum.

Sociology Deals With People

Sociology plays a strong part in today's world. Everyone is aware of sociology because it deals with a people's performance within a particular society. Having six dynamic teachers within the department helps the students in sociology to understand their society and where it is going. Mr. Elledge heads the department. Students who major in sociology can go into social work or most any other field that deals with people. This seems only logical as sociology gives us a better understanding of why our society is set up the way it is.

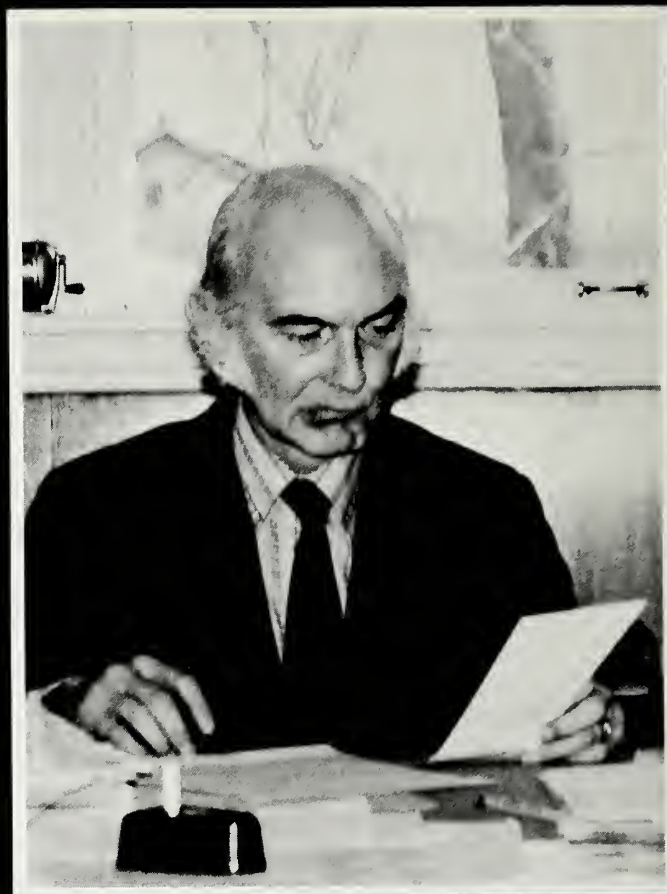

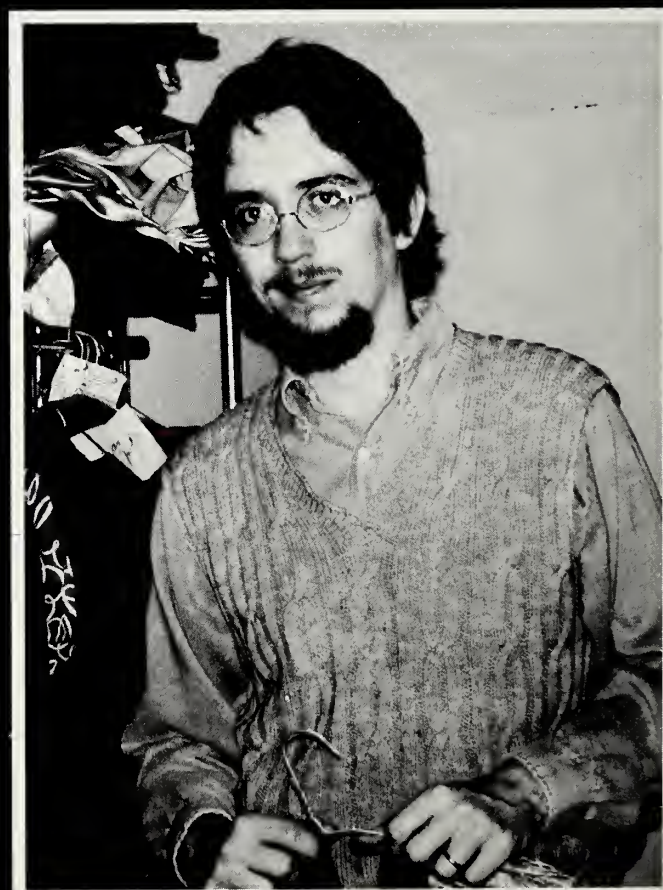

"Listen kids, you just have to use those bridges."

Thoughts Are Clearly Communicated

Frequently man feels a need to express himself in words in order that another can gain a clearer understanding of his feelings and ideas. By offering specialization in Public Speaking, Dramatic Arts, and General Speech the speech department is offering their majors the opportunity of using oral communication to better express themselves. As a part of practical experience students have an opportunity of thinking up and carrying through new ideas in radio, at the campus station, and trying their hand at staging, performing and even directing techniques through the College Theatre. It is one of man's attributes to have a good use of words.

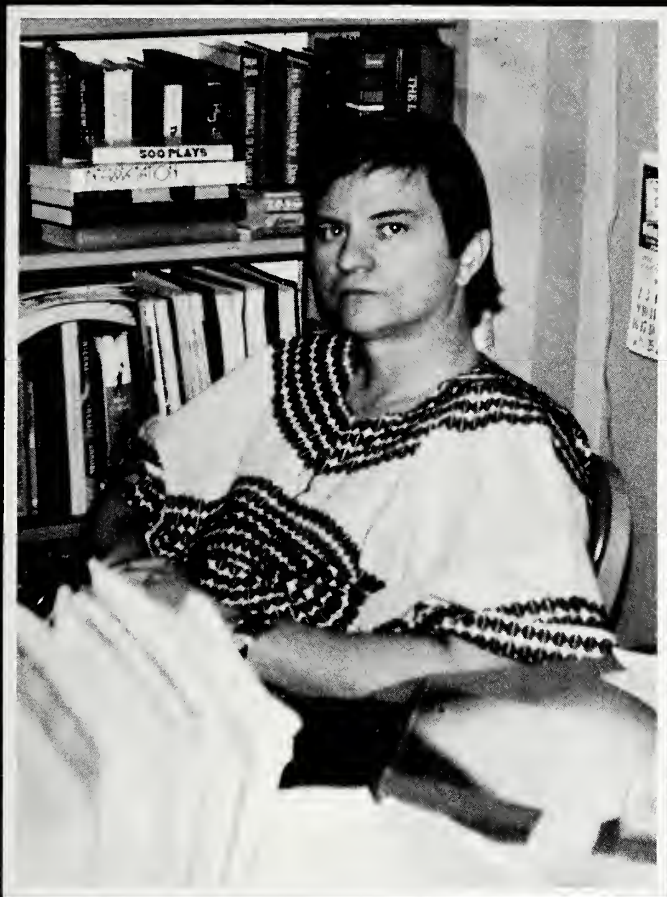

Dr. Low is the head of the Speech Department.

Sounds Make Words

At Kranz Hall things are happening that are an important aspect of education. Speech Correction majors serve the campus as well as the community in an attempt to remedy speech disorders. The speech correction major has many courses to fit into his schedule as well as fitting in time for his clients in the speech clinic. The speech clinic plays an important role being the practical side of what has been studied in class. It is important for man to understand one another; the speech correction major is trying to recognize the many speech disorders and remedy them.

Dr. Hall teaches speech correction classes.

Spanish Department Seeks Romance

Mrs. Jones is one of the favorite teachers among E.C. students.

Serving as one of the romantic languages, Spanish plays an important part in the life of E.C. students. Students majoring in the field find it interesting as well as students taking it to meet the language requirement. Through Dr. Wellington, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Howie, students are given guidance and numerous opportunities for help to develop their skills in the language. Miss Covelli will be remembered thru her dedication to her work, her concern for her students, and her whimsical, light-hearted humor.

Dr. Wellington, department chairman, helps a student plan her class schedule.

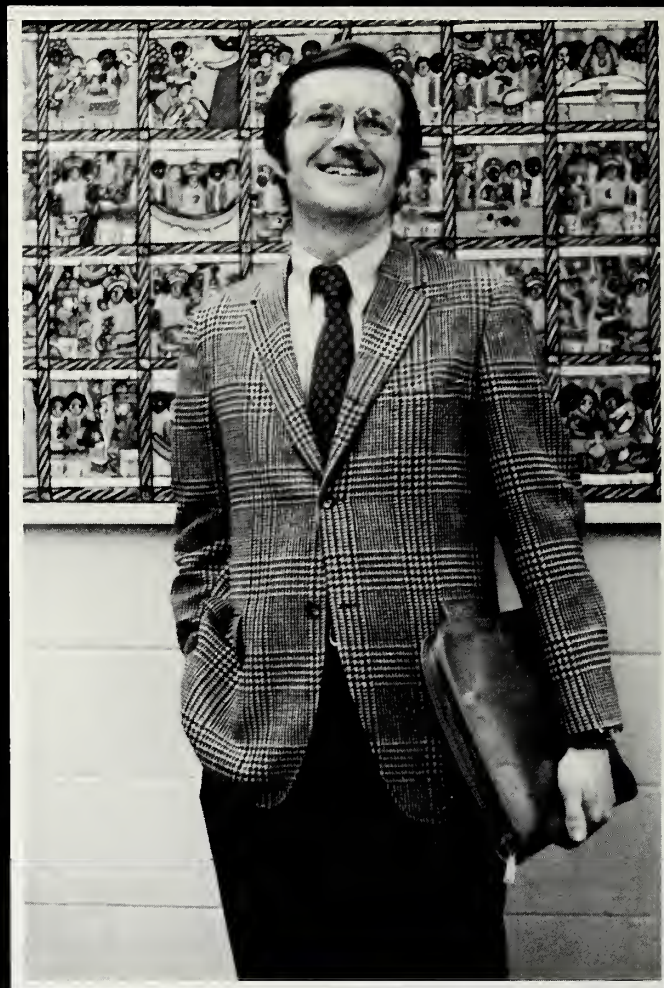

"Buenos dias" is a favorite greeting of Mrs. Howie in her classes.

Theological Questions Are Explored

If looking for simple answers, don't try to find them in the theology department. In the study of theology, questions about the meaning of life, God, and human relationships are brought to the surface. The theology department tries to provide the student with the tools to explore these kinds of questions. As well as studying abstract questions, the theology department provides many opportunities for concrete experiences. Some of these experiences took place this year during the interim in the Laboratory in Ministries course and the trip to Israel. Semester laboratory courses allow students to relate their exploration of theological questions to direct experiences in Christian Education.

A Variety of Programs Are Provided By Cultural Life

"Charlie Byrd," "The Best of Both Worlds," "Impact of Brass" — these were just a few of the events sponsored by the Cultural Life Committee of the College Union Board. Cultural Life also sponsored excursions to "1776," "Sleuth", and the "Chicago Symphony Orchestra."

The Cultural Life Committee, a standing committee of the college, was co-chaired by Sharon Tapp and Jim Cunningham. The committee consisted of both students and faculty members.

The committee was also involved in the inaugural plans for Dr. Frick, providing for an informal rap session with the President, and bringing the Chicago Chamber Orchestra to concert on campus.

Here is a scene from "The Best of Both Worlds."

Social Life Lives

Unbeknownst to many people, the Social Life Committee is constantly trying to plan and carry out events that interest everyone. Despite the 'dead campus' comments, there is rarely a weekend that goes by when there isn't something happening, with all the Union Board Committees.

Besides their weekly movies, this year, under Chairwoman Kathy Duzen, Social Life had a second annual camping trip, another F.O.F. weekend, two all night movie parties, and a reorganizing of the Coffeehaus.

After the fall of the Harbinger last year, the Social Life Committee became interested in reorganizing it and cleaning it up. With a lot of work to be done, the committee members began with much enthusiasm.

Social Life is always looking for new members to join their crazy brainstorming sessions.

Glen Snyder helped increase awareness of social issues.

Dr. Marty was one of the speakers in the lecture series.

John McGuire spoke in favor of students voting on campus.

Religious Life Committee is a Union Board Standing committee dealing with the religious activities of the Elmhurst students. These activities include excursions into Chicago for productions. This years major excursion was to see "Jesus Christ Superstar." The Art Festival held throughout the month of March, brings in artists from the Chicago area that express, through their art and all media their religious experience. Worship and religious expressions are also a major part of programming. Campus Crusade, Black Spiritual Life, and Ecumenical Worship are supplied by and run by students with those particular interests. The Experimental Catholic Community is also an organization which works on campus, open to all students.

Education is also a large part of Religious Life. Retreats, seminars, speakers and film series have occurred for the purpose of increasing awareness of social issues. Religious Life is a total committee striving to deal with the entire aspect of college life.

This Is Elms

Have you wondered what goes on in the Elms Office? Well, "Will SOMEBODY write copy for this?" What's wrong with this that it doesn't fit?", "Hey, look at the picture, there's . . .", "Janie, you're just the person I was looking for," "OK, who has the grease pencil" and last of all "Oh, No." Every Monday night students work doing lay-outs, thinking of captions, and writing copies like this one. This year's editors, Dave Cavallo and Sue Reel have brought up the quality of the yearbook. Their staff were few in number, but the "good times" kept 'em going. Enjoy the Book!

Another person who did a great amount of work was Doris.

..... WORDS THAT

The difficult position of Editor-in-chief was filled by Don Bizer.

Joan Martin is thoroughly engrossed in her work on the Elmbark.

Here are the smiling faces of those who said the words.

NEEDED TO BE SAID.

Words express thoughts and feelings, and this year the Elmbark has stated words that needed to be said. The paper has changed into a student-interest publication where E.C. students can finally express their views, and be heard. Don Bizer, Editor-in-chief, has done an outstanding job. A great deal of credit should be given to him for getting the staff together and organizing them. The Elmbark staff has initiated many new ideas for this year's paper as well as strengthening last year's favorites. Most prominently, columns have gained real strength this year by focusing most of their attention on student opinion and pertinent issues that confront most students. Black on Black, Crossfire, Students Speak Out and Dave Wayko have become prominent columns and have served well as a sounding board for the populus. Along with editorials, reviews of shows, programs and articles of upcoming events, the Elmbark has become a refreshing item to break up a monotonous week of classes and homework.

A great deal of credit has to go to the staff and their long hours of research, writing and typing to put together such a masterpiece that reflects the attitudes of the entire college campus.

A lot of effort was put into the publications of the Elmbark.

Happy 25th Year, WRSE

The 1971-72 school year proved to be very eventful for WRSE. The station erected a new FM antenna on the top of the College Union which improved the station's signal. WRSE also announced its new programming format consisting of popular "oldies-but-goodies" and new songs, which were dubbed "Blockbusters," and after 9 pm. album cuts, which were called "Freedom." In addition, many of the popular public interest and cultural programs were continued. The combination of the new antenna and the new format increased WRSE's listenership 900%.

In October of 1971, WRSE celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary of broadcasting. The silver anniversary was celebrated by special programs and promotion.

Squires are Involved In All Areas

The Brotherhood of Squires, one of the most respected groups on campus, continued to serve the campus and community. Some of the service projects included: participating in the March of Dimes, ushering at all home football and basketball games, working for the Muscular Dystrophy Drive, giving an annual Christmas party for retarded children, and ushering at Dr. Frick's inauguration. Their membership grew to an all time high of 65. The 16 members of the pledge class added a great deal of variety to the Squires. Social highlights of the year included the Homecoming champagne breakfast, followed by a dinner and dance, a masquerade party, and the year ended with the 5th annual boat trip. Officers for 1971-72 were: Pres. Chris Bauch, Vice Pres. Larry Evans, Secretary Dave Cavallo, Treasurer Jim Beard, Chaplain Ron Meyer, and Pledgemaster Jim Trench. Diversification and leadership will insure the group a predominant place on the Elmhurst campus for years to come.

Praetors Sponsor Hit Show and Dance

The Brotherhood of Praetors has been on campus for five years, and have definitely made a name for themselves. Known for their strong intramural participation, and their frequent parties, they attract many freshmen. This year they sponsored a variety show and held a '50's and '60's dance which both proved to be very successful. Also new with the group this year is their advisor, Mr. Madoch of the Business Administration Department.

EC's National Frat Is World's Largest

TKE the world's largest social fraternity, and Tau Kappa Epsilon, Elmhurst College's only National Fraternity, completed one of its most successful years on the college campus. Teke has sponsored many service and social activities which benefited students, faculty, and the community. Whether collecting for Leukemia or Cancer funds or sponsoring dances, the men of TKE always uphold the high standards set by their fellow fraters across the United States and Canada.

The highlight of the year was their sponsoring of an Illinois State Teke Softball Tournament. Five chapters from across the state participated in this event which will be an annual competition. Next year the fraternity will sponsor a series of mixers with top local entertainment in hotel ballrooms near Elmhurst. The brotherhood of this group is created due to their belief in its three essential qualities: Charity, Esteem, and Love.

O.D. Increases Membership

By placing emphasis upon pledging this year, the Sisterhood of Omicron Delta increased their membership from ten to twenty-six members. Their organization strives for academic excellence, service to others, and social functions which involve the sisters.

Omicron Delta participated in the March of Dimes, the Muscular Dystrophy drive, and the Cancer drive as service projects. Their major social functions were the first annual Active-Debutante Ball, which was held on November 20, 1971, at the O'Hare Congress Inn, and their dinner dance held April 15, 1972, at the Willowbrook in Willow Springs.

Officers for this year are Susan Shangle, president; Yvonne Chaloupka, vice president; Anne Kratzer, secretary; Stephanie Lufkin, treasurer; Susan Zilinskas, chaplain.

Happy Fifth Anniversary Adelphae!

The Sisterhood of Adelphae celebrates its fifth anniversary this year. Formed in 1967, it is the oldest sisterhood on the Elmhurst College campus. Adelphae serves the women of Elmhurst College in promoting leadership opportunities for both the commuter and resident and offers the school and community aid with both service and social activities. Some of these activities this year included a blood drive for the National Hemophilia Foundation, an Easter party for Emerson School, the Unicef Drive, ticket taking for the E.C. football games, serving at the coaches' convention, and organizing an inter-fraternal party at the Holiday Inn. Officers for the year were: President Kathy Harris, Vice-President Fae Zuckerman, Secretary Rhonda Larson, Treasurer Laurie Rentner, and Advisor Miss Hackman.

HIZ-I Gains Hers

For the third consecutive year, the Brotherhood of HIZ-I has provided E.C. with additional social activities. This year has given rise to the Sisterhood of HIZ-I. Aside from sponsoring open dances, the Brothers and Sisters of HIZ-I have staged exclusive functions designed to foster unity within the organization. Chairman Everett Fields, as well as the body of the organization, seek this year to especially live up to the motto and basis of HIZ-I, "What's his is mine and what's mine is his."

Black Affairs Expand

The Black Affairs Committee was headed by Sammy Green. The function of Black Affairs is to provide social, cultural and athletic outlets for Black students on the Elmhurst campus.

The biggest task undertaken by the committee was the Black Awareness Weekend that is to become an annual affair. The activities included two dances, a fashion show, a play and a religious service.

The weekend was begun with a Talent Show that gave students a chance to express themselves. The Brothers and Sisters jammed off "Oldies but Goldies" following the talent show. The cultural aspects were a slide presentation by Rev. Van Covington and an art exhibit by Black students. Black students talents were also shown by modeling Korvette fashions and their own creations. Saturday night the Brothers and Sisters jammed to the sounds of Bro. Floyd Davenport. ## Is This the Last Year For SDC?

The Student Development Center in the basement of Niebuhr hall is a place for students to talk, study, and relax. SDC started in January 1971 as a place for discussions between faculty and students. SDC tries to be person centered rather than problem centered and thus be a more personal place for students to get together and talk. Rooms are available for study or just to be alone. The center developed to include programs and lectures. The programs planned are to involve students and give them a place to express their feeling, register a complaint, get educated, or just have a good time. The quality of the SDC depends on the students and future of the SDC is now in question.

Student presentation and interaction is a basic tenet of SDC.

... And the Free University?

Free University was set up three years ago by Irion Hall. Students are invited to participate in the free recorder, guitar, cooking and chess lessons. Demonstrations are given in such things as hypnosis and magic. Last year Free University reached approximately 250 students. The continuation of the program is uncertain.

Free recorder lessons were also offered.

Choir Visits The Southwest

The Elmhurst Choir, under the direction of Dr. T. Howard Kruger, sang its last concert of the season on May 28. The choir's activities consisted of a Fall Tour, a Christmas Concert in cooperation with The Elmhurst Park District Choir, Lenten Concert season, an Easter Concert with The Elmhurst Park District Choir, Spring Tour, and singing at various concerts and for Baccalaureate Services. This year's Spring Tour found the E.C. Choir in the Southwest. Of the U.S. cities, included in the tour, were Wichita, Kansas City, San Antonio, St. Louis, Forth Worth, and its farthest point, New Braunfels, Texas. Many thanks to the Choir, on behalf of the college committee, for their fine musical efforts.

Women's Talents Are Manifested in Poly

Polyhymnia is the women's choral ensemble of Elmhurst College. The name Polyhymnia is derived from the Muse of serious songs of adoration in Greek mythology. Polyhymnia was one of the goddesses of inspiration who sang at the meals of the gods in Olympus, accompanied by the lyre of Apollo.

The women of Polyhymnia sing and present sacred and secular music at various concerts on campus. Directed by Mr. David Austin, the group's aim is to further the appreciation of such music as well as enrich the music education of its members. As a choral ensemble, the women of Polyhymnia find an enjoyable learning experience through music and fellowship.

Polyhymnia adds to the Christmas season in concert.

Glee Club Sings to Bring Joy

This year the Men's Glee Club performed three on campus concerts, in compliance with an unfortunate Music Department decree that prohibited our oldest student organization from off campus engagements and its traditional spring tour. Under the direction of Mr. David Austin, the Glee Club rehearsed three days a week throughout the year to prepare for the small but enthusiastic crowds who assembled in Irion Hall Chapel to cheer the men on. The Glee Club formed in 1894 hopes that one day again they will be allowed to "Gladden folk's hearts everywhere with song."

The Concert Band Pours Out Music

The concert band had a change in directors this year. Mr. Riemer, currently directing at York High School, is also conducting the college band. As always when an alteration occurs, there were a few rough spots that had to be worked out. Two concerts were performed, however. Also at Homecoming the band marched on the field for a brief appearance. Due to lack of interest, the pep band became defunct this basketball season. There was no tour because of lack of funds. This year's officers were George Jacobs, President; Quinten Lang, Vice President; Kathy Goeke, Secretary-Treasurer; and Madelynn Tabbert, Librarian.

People Need Art

Through a unique trade of the Union Board and the Art Department, two of our union rooms came to be adorned with wall murals this spring. The Union Board gave photography equipment to the Art Department with hopes that they can use it to sponsor classes. In return the Art Department painted the murals in the T.V. and Browsing rooms. The mural painting was directed by Mr. John Weber, who with the help of student artists, Evadne McNeil, Caroline Theus, Douglas Steiner, and Wayne Anderson completed the murals in time for a dedication ceremony on May 12.

Union Board Is Responsible For The Planning Of Campus Activities

The Union Board is a programming organization designed to encourage students and other members of the college community to meet and share talents, ideas, and interests. To provide a well-balanced program of events U.B. is sub-divided into various Life Committees (Athletic, Black Affairs, Cultural, Social, Religious, Elms, Elmbark, and W.R.S.E.). These committees do the initial programming that results in the creative process that goes into pulling off an event. This year the various committees have sponsored Preservation Hall, Charlie Byrd, Black Awareness Week-end, the Intramural games, F.O.F. week, Worship Services — the list is endless. The Union Board's continuing goal is the creation of an atmosphere that encourages individual self-development whether it be in the arts, social events, or intramural games.

Club Does Well In Its Second Year

Synchronized Swim Club met once a week to learn and practice swimming skills and routines. During the football season they operated the concession stand at games to raise money. With the money, Swim Club went to a fall workshop in Iowa. When they returned, they started working on a routine to bring to the International Competition held in Virginia in April. Five girls went to the competition with Miss Fredrickson as coach. They presented a routine "Political Mobil", an expression of various political views. Laurabeth Ausili also presented a solo routine "Touch the Sky", where she expressed the motions of a sailing kite. No specific rating was given at the International Competition, but the critiques of the routine were favorable.

This is another formation used in a routine.

The girls, Bonnie Kacorus, Laura Sova, Bonnie Allen, Judy Grande, and Jada Seman met faithfully everyday to put together routines with the band. They also each made their own costumes which added to the half time spectacle.

Hockey Team Has Big Hopes

For many years now, Elmhurst has had a Hockey Club. Some years it is good and other years it's not up to par. This, the 71-72 year, we had a record of 1-4, which is an improvement over last year's 0-5. This year we lacked two important items, a coach and money. Our training program consisted of practice twice a week. The coming year will bring a more stable team both financially and in training. The record for next year will put the Hockey Club back in the focus of main school activities. The games we played this year were against teams from other colleges in the area on an institutional basis. So far things are becoming better each year. The improvements in the E.C. team will show next year.

Intramurals Becomes Non-Existent!

Intramurals became defunct this year. After a serious fight during the basketball season Union Board discontinued the program. Why? Official reasons stated that the program was not conducive to sportsmanship. We all know that a program like this CAN produce healthy competition between teams.

This is as it should be. But all participants must have respect for other players as well as for the officials. When this disappeared, the program went with it. An intramural program is necessary for the student who doesn't have the talent or time to play varsity sports, or who play for fun. Let's give it another try!

Karate Is Discipline

Every Monday and Wednesday night, the Irion Hall Recreation Room turns into a dojo training hall. Here students learn the art of Kyokushinkai Kan-karate. Karate is not a sport, but a discipline builder for the mind and body. This year the Karate Club expanded and was offered as a service gym course.

ATHLETICS

The Blue Jays Break a Record

The Elmhurst Bluejays began their 1971 season with a loss, but quickly picked up their pace with the second game beating North Central 41 to 0. The team seemed to have good spirit and teamwork as they surpassed North Park, Carroll and Wheaton College — three games in a row; 44-6, 29-0, and 41-0, respectively. At the time of the North Park game, they were 3 and 0. None of the fans expected this win, but the Jays surprised us once again.

Homecoming game this year was exciting as we wopped Wheaton — the first time to win a Homecoming game in a while.

It was overall, a very exciting season. The Elmhurst Bluejays closed the season with 4 wins and 5 losses. The great sportsmanship that counts keeps our favorite team going.

Those favorite players of ours that put themselves at the top are: John Spooner, Darryl Lyons, Will Eagleson, Chuck Purdom, and Rodney Moore.

John Spooner received the honor for the most yards in rushing—571 yards. For passing the raw-hide, Darryl Lyons with 44 complete passes and Will Eagleson with 10, took the lead. At the other end catching was Chuck Purdom who now has 33 caught passes to his credit. Rodney Moore was our best scorer this year which is what the fans noticed — he got 5 touchdowns and 1 extra point. Great job Rodney! In total offense, John Spooner and Darryl Lyons once again lead the team.

The best accomplishment that will be remembered is the record that Elmhurst broke in yards gained by rushing. In our game against North Park, we gained 480 yards. Congratulations guys, see ya next year out on the field.

The song of victory rings through the community after the game.

Bluejays End Season 15-9

This season marked Jon Hawthorne's debut as basketball head coach of the bluejays. New varsity coach Jon Hawthorne led the Jays to 15 wins, which tied an all-time E.C. record. One of the highlights of the season came early in February when the Jays routed Carroll College 113 to 89. Those 113 points enabled the E.C. cagers to set a new school single game scoring record, breaking the old record set in 1965-1966.

During the season they participated in two tournaments; they took a third place in the Aurora College Cage Classic with two valuable players injured. During Christmas vacation Elmhurst won the Illinois Tech Holiday tournament championship. It was only the second time in the history of the school that an E.C. basketball team has won a holiday tournament title.

Cal Saunders a 6'4" junior was the team's leading scorer, rebounder and gained the most value points per game and in one season. John Froeschner and Jim Bell, both seniors, averaged 12.2 and 11.0 points per game respectively, both proved to be a valuable asset to the bluejay team. Senior Dwaine Hoff provided depth for the team and pulled down 133 rebounds for the season.

Two records this year were Jim Brusveen and Jim Trench. Brusveen broke the season records in career assists and most assists in one game, while Trench broke the record with the best Field Goal percentage and came in second place with 140 rebounds. With Trench at forward again next year he could prove to be another valuable asset for E.C.

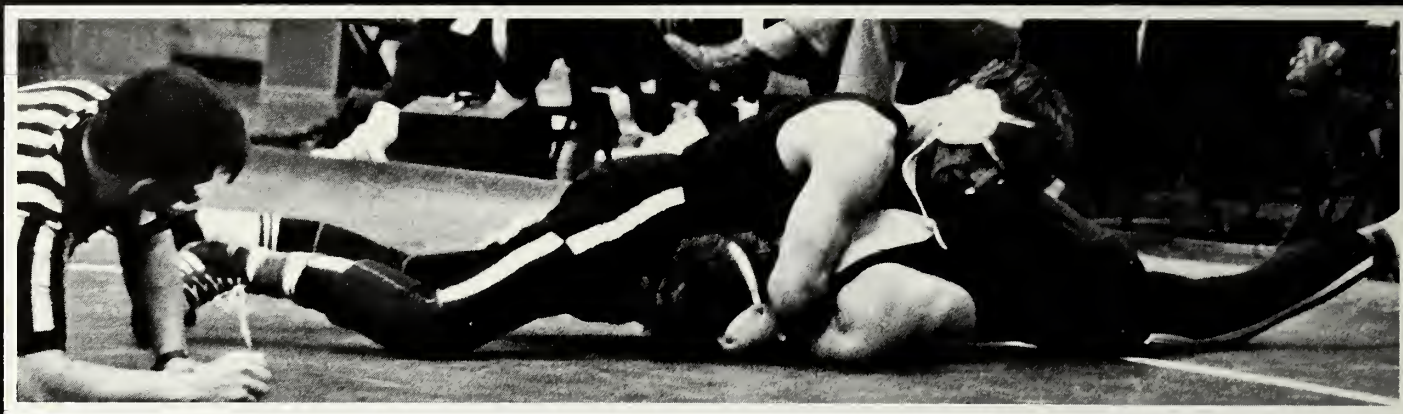

With Travis, Simpson, and Joe Bell also returning next year, the bluejays team could be a strong contender in the CCIW next season. Jays fans can look forward to another exciting year next year as five good players are returning.

Wrestling Season Was Disheartening

The "Wrestling Jays" performed a 6-7 dual meet record this season. This record was due mostly to a series of injuries, an absence of experienced wrestlers, and three to four forfeits. Nevertheless, individual wins and strong team effort gave Elmhurst its third consecutive upper division finish.

This year Elmhurst fell off of its leading pace. We dropped from first to third in the North Central Invitational and from second to third in the Conference.

This season's top wrestlers were Don Kessler, Dave Kuban, Don Stuart, and Doug Gorham. In the CCIW Don Kessler took first place. Don also became Elmhurst's first two time conference champ. Dave Kuban proved to be this year's most consistent tournament wrestler placing first at North Central, third at Wheaton, and second in the CCIW. Don Stuart took special honors as the honorary team captain. This was the third year in a row that Don has placed in the conference meet. Doug Gorham was awarded the most improved wrestler honor. He gave a nice surprise at the Millikin tournament by out classing the field of heavyweights and bagging the first place medal.

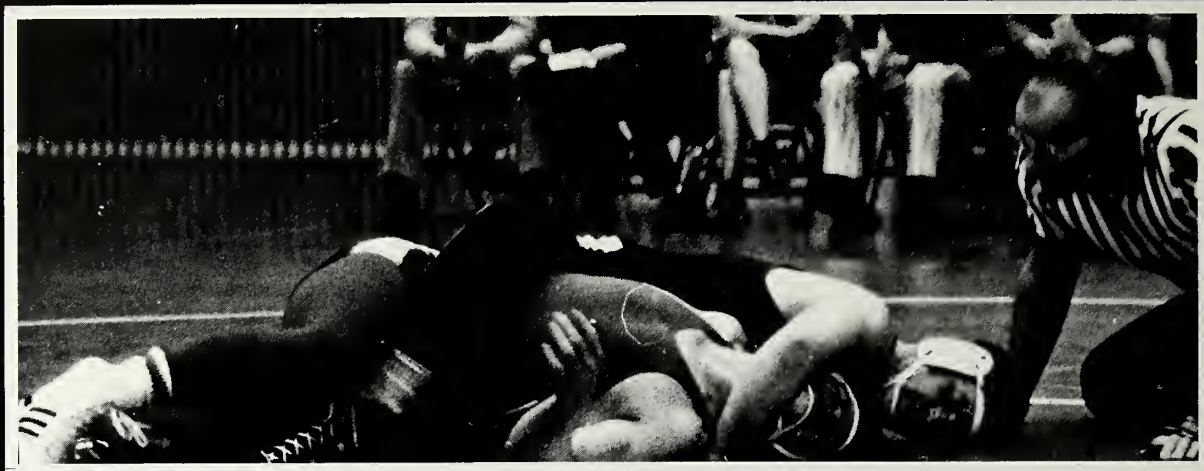

Special recognition should be given to Hank Harrison in the senior spot light, Don Kessler, and Doug Gorham for placing first in CCIW and Don Kessler and Dave Kuban who represented E.C. at this years NCAA College Division Tournament at Oswego, New York.

Trackmen Go To It!

Track Takes Second Both Indoor And Out

The Elmhurst College Track Team opened the season with an impressive second place finish at the NAIA District 20 Meet, scoring  $23\frac{1}{2}$  points. This, added with a quadrangular victory over Morton Junior College, Thornton Junior College, and Kishwaukee Junior College highlighted the indoor season.

During the outdoor season the Jays were hampered by many injuries. Highlights of the outdoor season were impressive home victories over Millikin, Carroll, North Park, Illinois Benedictine, Aurora, Lake Forest, and George Williams. The Jays were shutout in the conference meet, but bounced back to place second at the Elmhurst Intercollegiate International with a second place finish in a field of eighteen schools.

Outstanding honors were given to Don Tyler; leading point getter, Ken Rupnow; most valuable player, and Redmond Clark; team captain.

Jays Pull Third With A Late Season Surge

By winning eight out of the last ten games, the Elmhurst baseball team finished in third place in the CCIW with an 8-5-2 record. In nonconference play, the Jays were 4-4-1 for an overall record of 12-9-3.

The season opened with the annual trip south. Oddly enough, the season opener ended in a 3-3 tie with Tennessee Temple in Chattanooga, Tennessee. After the tie in Chattanooga, the Jays moved on to Atlanta, Georgia, where they beat North Georgia College twice before splitting a double-header with Oglethorpe. That split started the longest losing streak of the year — 4 games.

The Jays returned home on a winning note as they beat Jacksonville State University of Alabama 4-2 in the second game of a doubleheader. Jacksonville State went into the contest with a 20-2 slate, having beaten such teams as Mississippi State and Auburn.

After returning home, the Jays started the conference schedule with a tie against Wheaton. Next came two one-run losses to conference champion Carthage, and a loss and a tie to Augustana before the Jays put on their late season surge.

In the last ten games, the Jays outscored their opponents 60-38 while notching third place. During this span, the Jays beat Illinois Wesleyan 4-1 and 9-4. This is the first time that anyone can remember that Elmhurst has swept a doubleheader from Wesleyan.

First baseman Nick Garbarino was selected to the all-conference team as he hit .360 in the conference and .325 overall. Out fielder Dwaine Hoff made honorable mention on the all-conference list. The team's Most Valuable Player award, selected by members of the squad, was Dwaine Hoff.

Tennis Anyone?

The Elmhurst varsity tennis team, inexperienced and unpredictable, posted a dual meet record of 2-7 but finished an encouraging sixth in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin championships in 1972. At the CCIW meet, captain Bobby Shannon was the runner-up at first singles and the first doubles team of Shannon and Van Taggart took second place.

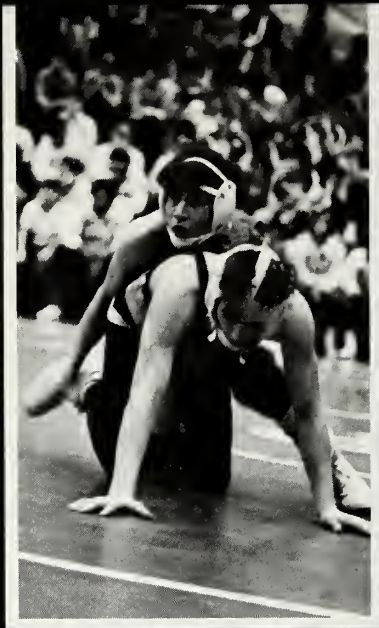

In regular season, the netters managed victories over Illinois Benedictine 7 to 2 and conference rival North Park 6 to 3. Conference champion Augustana blasted Elmhurst 9 to 0, but the Jays played strongly despite losses to well-regarded Wheaton, Millikin, and Illinois Wesleyan.

Freshmen Ken Brinker and Rich Hamning got plenty of experience at third and fourth singles, respectively. They and Taggart will form the nucleus of a potentially successful tennis team in 1973.

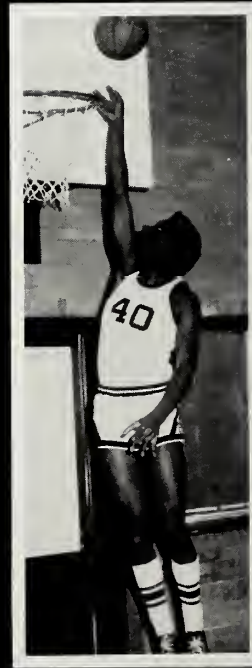

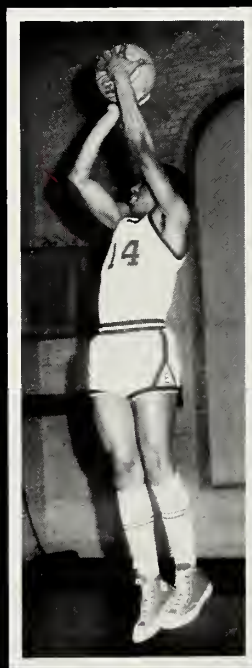

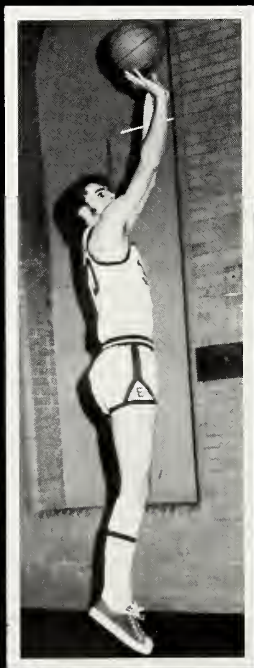

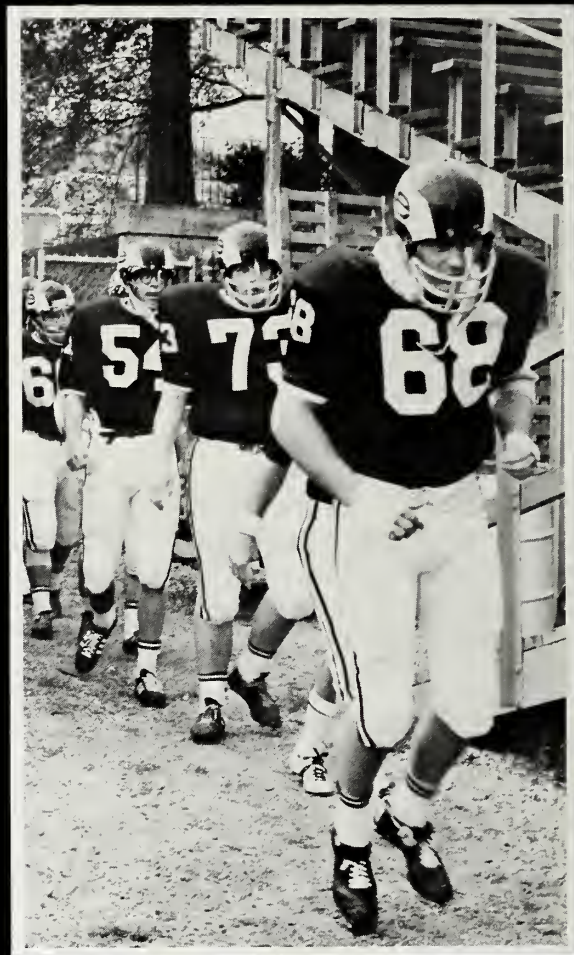

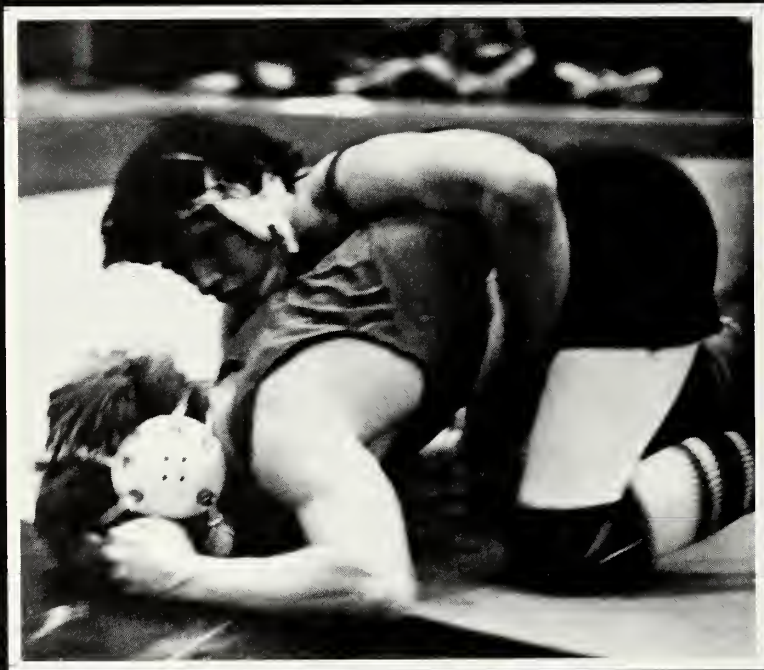

Glen Kistner is the coach.

Camera's Eyeview On Sports

Cross Country Makes a Comeback at E.C.

The 1971 edition of the 'Blue Machine' was a low-budget model. Building on a non-existent team of the prior year, the harriers, coached by Jon Hawthorne, were hampered by a lack of depth, experience, support and an abundance of injuries. Yet strong will and determination held the team together as they drove their way through a schedule of tough competition.

The team members comprised a wide range of experience and evidenced the need for rebuilding in future years. Senior members were Jeff Swartout, returning after a stint in the Navy, Red Clark, a new-comer to the sport, and Don Bizer, his third year on the team and the only 'veteran' of the original 'Blue Machine' of two years ago. As a nucleus for future years, freshmen members Vern Rhodes and Al Brown, and junior Mike Casey — most valuable runner — gained valuable experience in the tough CCIW competition.

The 1972 'Blue Machine' will need an increase of student interest and support for the remodeling and rebuilding job. But with Coach in the drivers seat and the returning nucleus from this year's team, the future can only be bright for E.C.'s one and only 'Blue Machine'.

Al Brown and Mike Casey show that practice is a vital part of cross country.

Vern Rhodes crosses the country for the 'Blue Machine'.

Follow That Ball!

Under first year coach Walt Schousen, the Linksters turned in a season record of 4 wins, 6 losses and 1 tie.

The team was led by the two veterans, Pete Drogos and Craig Arend. Despite continuing foul weather Drogos and Arend shot brilliantly.

Drogos averaged 75 and Arend averaged 77 for the season. Other members of the team include Jeff Swartout and Craig Mernitz.

Peter Drogos was named M.V.P. for the third consecutive year.

Pete Drogos starts his winning swing.

"What can we say?"

"We're on top of it all."

"Would you believe 20% fewer cavities?"

Go Cheerleaders!

With all their enthusiasm and nearly constant support the cheerleaders put in a lot of hard work this year. Because of a lack of funds they missed a few away games but tried their best to get to as many as they could; even if it meant running a few tolls.

At Homecoming they sold mums to earn extra funds and also tried their hand at mustering up school spirit by sponsoring a Pep Rally and a shout-down at Wheaton. The Pep Rally seemed to wake some sleeping folks from their dorms but the shout-down did go down. In fact it never even got off the ground.

After football season and after losing a member of the squad, try-outs were held and two new members were chosen.

Through the basketball season the cheerleaders kept up their support and finished off the season with 16 cheerleaders instead of eight. The last game of the season they entertained the fans with male cheerleaders aiding them. It was a fine way to end the season.

Barb King and Kathy Komay perform a cheer for the crowd.

Co-editors Dave Cavallo and Susan Reel

Dave and I would like to thank both the Elms Staff and the Elms Photographers without whom this book would never have been possible. We would also like to express our appreciation to Dr. Bidle, our faculty adviser, and to Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Kufer, and the Public Relations office for their invaluable help. Special thanks go to staff members, Doris Holtgreve, who did a tremendous amount of work in the one semester she was with us; and Janie Amano, Judy DeVore, and Sue Valastyan who stayed " 'til the end." Also my own special thanks go to Chris Reel, Jim Werner, and especially Brett Wolfe, who gave me much valuable support.
